SAFETY CONCERNS ON MINING STATUE

NEW locations for a £70,000 mining memorial in Rugeley are being investigated as safety concerns could scupper plans for it to be installed on a major roundabout.

Cannock Chase Council approved plans in August for the £70,000 tribute to miners who worked at the Lea Hall and Brereton pits.

But Rugeley Town Council and Staffordshire County Council have expressed concerns that having the memorial on the Globe island will be unsafe and inaccessible.

Town Council chairman John Rowley said: "It is felt that the statues are of such high quality that by putting them on the Globe island members of the public will not get to appreciate the workmanship up closely.

"On the Globe Island people will just drive past and miss the full impact of the memorial itself.

Interaction

"Rugeley Town Council feels that the miners' memorial would be better suited in the town centre. This would encourage interaction with the public who then would be able to see the statues up close and have photographs taken with them."

He said if the monument was placed in Market Square, for example, a flower bed could be removed and the statues could be placed there allowing benches to be installed and giving the public the chance to sit and fully enjoy the memorial.

"Also with the planned Memorial Wall it would work well having the two projects together," he added.

"Having the miners' memorial in Rugeley town centre would create a focal point to encourage more footfall within the town centre as well as giving visitors, such as from the canal, the chance to see the memorial."

Rugeley is the only one of the district's three towns not to have a statue commemorating its mining past.

Last year the Lea Hall and Brereton Collieries' Memorial Society won a £70,000 grant to build a memorial.

A county council spokesman said: "We're not saying the memorial won't be built there but we want to do a full consultation with local councils and residents who've made us aware of their concerns.

"We're also investigating alternative locations around the town."

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley has called for the monument to be located in a similar position to that of the Davy Lamp memorial in the heart of Hednesford, making it more accessible.

He said: "The safety of drivers and pedestrians must be paramount.

"Drivers must have an adequate view of all four exits, and the pedestrian crossings on three of them, when they approach this roundabout.

"I am also sure that local people will want to get close, and even touch, the statues.

"If the council is prepared to see this erected in a safer place, I will certainly do everything I can to help them find a location in a more central location in the town."

Drivers bear up for delays as charity rickshaw passes village

The One Show Children in Need rickshaw passes through Penkridge with Matt Baker cycling alongside, right

A RICKSHAW travelling across the country for charity brought traffic to a standstill as it travelled through Penkridge.

One Show stars Matt Baker and Alex Jones are among the team taking the rickshaw to raise cash for Children In Need. It was on the last leg of the challenge on Tuesday and made its way from Bolton to Birmingham, passing Penkridge en route to Wolverhampton before then heading to the second city, from where The One Show was broadcast.

Now in its third year the charity cycle is an eight-day ride, which began in Northern Ireland and will end at BBC Elstree for the live Children in Need show tomorrow (Friday).

The entire route will cover almost 700 miles and participants s are riding round the clock, with cyclists taking turns to do the night shift.

Tailbacks

Motorists were caught up in heavy traffic as the convoy made its way through Penkridge.

Sales representative Liz Gee, who works in Cannock, was half an hour late for work after being caught up in the tailbacks as the rickshaw travelled along the A449 Wolverhampton Road at around 9am.

She said: "The traffic was horrendous. We were crawling along and I didn't realise what was going on."

Speaking before the challenge, Alex Jones said: "This is going to be one of the toughest things I've ever done, and we will all have our work cut out for us.

"Cycling through the night will probably be the hardest part."

The One Show's Rickshaw Challenge has raised in excess of £3.5 million for the charity to date. Before setting off, the team said it hoped to rake in more than ever before this year.

BGT Jean flicks the switch for Christmas

BRITAIN'S Got Talent star Jean Martyn will switch-on Cannock's Christmas lights tomorrow night (Friday).

The organist, a former Cannock music school teacher, was a finalist in the 2011 show and will flick the switch at 7pm. Fireworks will coincide with the event, organised by Cannock Traders Association.

There will be children's amusements and stalls from 4-8pm, as well as a face painter, while local DJs from the DanceBitz Roadshow will also provide entertainment.

Bandstand

Father Christmas will arrive at 6pm to meet and greet festive shoppers and pose for photographs with youngsters before making his way to his grotto at the lower bandstand, courtesy of the Rotary Club.

There will be no pedestrian access along Market Hall Street between 6.45pm and 7.15pm. Barriers will be put up across the Beecroft underpass, with access routes leading from the Forum and the bottom of Market Hall Street.

There will be access to toilets within Cannock Shopping Centre. However, there will only be access from the bus station during this time.

Frustration felt on HS2

CAMPAIGNERS say they have been left frustrated by a series of public consultation events over the High-speed HS2 rail link.

HS2 Ltd set up community forums to liaise with affected residents. The community forum programme is now complete and HS2 Ltd says it will continue to correspond with areas affected.

However, campaigner Ian Waddell said HS2 Ltd had been unprofessional in its dealings.

Meanwhile, Conservative Party stalwart Lord Heseltine claims the country will lose out if HS2 is axed.

Rutting deer pose a danger on Chase

WALKERS have been warned to stay away from areas of Cannock Chase amid fears they could be attacked by rutting deer.

Wildlife expert Faye Burton says people must be careful to stay away from the deer during mating season as they can be dangerous.

During rutting season stags engage in fierce mating battles. Although normally shy around people, they can become aggressive and attacks on dogs are not uncommon.

The main area where it takes place is the conservation area at Brocton.

Antlers

"This time of year, around October, is mating season for the deer," said Ms Burton. "Stags can be very dangerous during the rutting season."

Ms Burton added just a few weeks ago she witnessed a woman letting her dog off its lead near to where three stags were locking antlers, which could have put both her and her dog at great risk.

She also asked drivers to be more aware of deer as on Monday one was hit by a car.

Ms Burton said although the deer was still alive after the crash, it is likely the animal had to be put down afterwards.

Boss proud of his team

A CROWD of more than 2,000 saw League One Crawley end Hednesford Town's FA Cup hopes 2-1.

Boss Rob Smith said he was proud of his players ahead of this weekend's FA Trophy clash to Workington.

Three people were arrested last week. A 46-year-old man from Wimblebury was cautioned for allegedly entering the field and a 23-year-old from Mill Crescent, Cannock, was bailed for allegedly throwing a missile. A 17-year-old was bailed for possession of a firework or flare.

Ex-nursing chief cautioned for misconduct

A FORMER chief nurse at Stafford Hospital has been given a five-year caution order for exposing patients to danger while working.

Janice Harry was cautioned after being found guilty of misconduct, but would still be allowed to work as a nurse if she wished to return to the profession, the Nursing and Midwifery Council ruled. She retired in 2009.

The panel found that between 1998 and 2006, Mrs Harry put patients at risk by not ensuring there were adequate numbers of nursing staff in A&E, the emergency admission unit and another ward. She also failed to ensure there was appropriate food and drink in the unit, the panel concluded.

Mrs Harry was employed by Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust and its predecessor Mid Staffordshire General Hospitals NHS Trust from 1998 to 2006. She denied all charges.

Colin Wilkinson, a former director of nursing at the hospital, claimed Mrs Harry had been made a' scapegoat'.

He said: "I still feel there needs to be some ownership and accountability.

"You cannot blame the nurses, you can only blame the administration and the management who took decisions in such a manner.

"Jan Harry shouldn't be made a scapegoat, there was a whole team who made decisions at the hospital and they are all accountable."

Janice Harry – cautioned

A&E patient ranking lowest in the region

PATIENTS have given the lowest ranking in the region to the accident and emergency ward at Stafford Hospital.

The department was given an overall score of 31 in a patient survey, with the maximum attainable being 100. Patients were asked whether they would recommend the unit to friends and family.

In July, the ward was awarded a score of 82 – making it the highest scoring A&E in the West Midlands and third best in the country.

But in the latest survey, completed in September, 12 of the 105 people who took part said they were 'extremely unlikely' to recommend it to family and friends.

However, 58 said they were 'extremely likely' to recommend it.

All results of the surveys were given over the phone once the patient had returned home.

Correlate

Mike Heenan, leader of Stafford Borough Council, said the figures were 'inconsistent' and did not correspond with what people had said to him about Stafford Hospital's A&E department.

"I'm disappointed to say the least and the figures are so inconsistent," said Councillor Heenan.

"I need to have a look at the figures properly myself, but it most certainly does not seem to correlate with what people have been telling me."

Walsall Healthcare NHS Trust scored the highest in the Black Country with a total result of 65 points in the patient survey.

University Hospital of North Staffordshire, which is set to take over the running of services at Stafford Hospital, scored a total of 44 in the patient survey.

TSAs' plans just do not add up, says health body

CAMPAIGNERS calling for services to be retained at Stafford Hospital were told at a packed public meeting that health chiefs will oppose the current plans for its future.

Around 170 people attended Stafford gatehouse for a summit meeting on Monday night – and were urged to take 'comfort' in the stance of bosses leading the response from GPs.

Trust special administrators recommend Stafford should lose its maternity unit and paediatric inpatient care, while critical care would be downgraded.

However the plans still would not balance the books – leaving Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust with an £8.5m annual deficit.

And Andrew Donald, chief officer for Stafford and Surrounds Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG), said: "If the figures are correct I am not going to sign up to a deficit.

"We don't think at the moment that the financial assessment is either correct or adds up."

Mr Donald also said two further meetings would be held after health secretary Jeremy Hunt rules on the administrators' plans.

Tommy treasures prize

Market owner Liz Williams presents Tommy Bayliss, aged nine, with his £50 prize

A NINE-year-old boy solved the clues to win a Halloween treasure hunt with a difference. Penkridge Market conducted the treasure hunt via its facebook page with all the clues posted online.

The winner, Tommy Bayliss, from Penkridge, won a £50 voucher and was presented with the prize by owner Liz Williams.

A prize was also awarded for the best fancy dress costume among the traders and visitors which was won by Lorna Pyatt from Stafford for her stunning Witch's outfit.

The market is now getting ready for Christmas.

Fine food and craft markets are being held on November 16 and December 21 as well as the annual Victorian Christmas Market on November 29.

Country park in need of helpers

VOLUNTEERS are being sought to carry out vital heathland management at Chasewater Country Park.

Members of Lichfield District Council's countryside and parks conservation group cut down and cleared young trees on November 6.

Helpers are now needed for a second heathland management day on Thursday, November 28. The events help to maintain the heathland environment on the beauty spot's north shore.

Councillor Ian Pritchard, the council's Cabinet member for development services, said: "Protecting our heathland is really important."

Bonfire

The group will meet for the next session at Chasewater Heaths Station, off the A5190 for a 10.30am start. The event will run until 3pm and will involve clearing trees and making a bonfire to burn all the scrub that has been gathered.

Hot drinks and snacks will be provided but a packed lunch is recommended.

Volunteers must be 18 or over to take part. To book a free place, call 01543 308183 or email denice.deverall@lichfielddc.gov.uk

Police catch eight drivers

EIGHT drivers were caught by police in a road safety operation.

Staffordshire Police officers patrolled a stretch of the A5 and the A460 using the Automated Number Plate Recognition (ANPR) technology on November 6.

Motorists were reported for offences including having no insurance, MoT or tax, or driving other than in accordance with a licence. One vehicle was seized for having no insurance.

Three drivers were referred to a road safety course for offences including using a mobile phone or not wearing a seat belt.

Dig deep call after typhoon

SUPPORTERS of the international charity Cafod are being urged to dig deep to aid Filipino communities ravaged by Typhoon Haiyan.

The regional office of the charity – the Catholic Agency for Overseas Development – has launched the appeal after the 235kph storm left a trail of destruction in its wake.

Cafod is working through its local partners in the Philippines trying to reach those most affected.

Abigail McMillan manager for Cannock said: "Our local partners are already operating in the worst-hit areas, responding to the most immediate needs.

"We're doing everything we can to reach people in isolated areas.

"People in Cannock always respond generously to such tragic events and we're grateful for any support they can give."

Greg Auberry, regional director of one of Cafod's partners in the Philippines, said: "The charity's partners across the region are ensuring that emergency supplies are in place.

"We have pledged an initial £50,000 to respond, and we are ready to add more financial help and practical support."

Four facing rob charges

FOUR men have appeared in court charged with conspiring to commit a string of robberies.

They are accused of raiding seven stores, including the Co-Op in Wolverhampton Road, Penkridge.

Craig Osmund-Smith, 40, of Valley Road, Dudley; Alan Britton, 40, of Duke Street, Wolverhampton; Graham Aulton, 32, of Norbury Crescent, Lanesfield, Wolverhampton; and Stewart Ferguson, 34, of Rosewood Court, Coseley, appeared at Cannock Magistrates Court.

They will appear at Stafford Crown Court on November 25.

Christmas sale

CHRISTMAS gifts, cards and decorations will be on sale at a Rugeley church on Saturday. There will also be a book and bric-a-brac stall, model railways, tools and memorabilia at St Paul's Methodist/United Reformed Church, Lichfield Street, from 10am to noon. There will be home-made cakes and pies and refreshments.

Volunteers continue canalside clean-up

Work party volunteers during the clean-up at Brindley Bank

A COMBINATION of 13 and Friday was not unlucky for volunteers working on a canalside clean up.

The 13-strong team carried out work by the aqueduct on the Trent & Mersey Canal in the Brindley Bank area of Rugeley last Friday (November 8).

The work party finished clearing a footpath from the bottom of the 'Bloody Steps' to the aqueduct before moving on to filling in behind the piling at the far end of the moorings.

The grass had the last cut of the year, with the footpath from Wolseley Road having the side vegetation strimmed. The steps were cleared of leaves and accumulated moss to make them safer during the winter months.

Despite being hampered by persistent rain, the so-called 'Time Team' continued to build the wharf wall. They were joined by PCSO Liz Dale who told the group that since regular work by the volunteers had begun reported incidents of anti-social behaviour had decreased. She added some offenders had been caught.

A spokesman for the Inland waterways Association, which organises the work parties, said: "Our volunteers are all ages, and many wear different 'volunteering hats'. On this occasion we had members from the Lichfield and Hatherton Restoration Trust, Stafford Riverway Link, Rugeley Lions, Inland Waterways Association, Canal and River Trust, the police, and local residents who no doubt support other charities and organisations."

Volunteers hope to get together for one last work party of the year, weather permitting.

Tributes paid after death of former headteacher at 63

A FORMER headteacher of 16 years who worked at schools in both Staffordshire and the Black Country has died aged 63.

Tributes have been paid to John Hall, who died on Sunday. He was in charge of Hagley Park Secondary School in Rugeley from 1992 until 2008.

He was later a consultant to headteachers in Walsall.

Mr Hall passed away at St Giles Hospice after suffering from pancreatic cancer. He is survived by his wife Angela, son Mark, daughter Jo, and granddaughter Lilly.

Mrs Hall said her husband was a keen sportsman and was 'devoted' to his family.

He represented England at fencing, played golf and was a keen rugby and hockey player.

Listen

She said: "He was much-loved by everybody who knew him because of his integrity and willingness to listen anyone who had a problem.

"He was such an open and genuine person and was a devoted family man.

"He was interested in people and wanted to help anyone he could. He loved his garden and did lots of DIY and loved to keep busy."

Mr Hall lived in Stowe-by-Chartley, near Stafford, having first moved to Staffordshire to take up the headship of Hagley in 1992. He was born in Putney and met his wife at teacher training college in Cheltenham.

Ex-chair of governors at Hagley Park, Martin Reed, said Mr Hall would be greatly missed.

Former head John Hall

He said: "All those who knew him during his long spell at the school will readily acknowledge his professional skills as a leader and educational pioneer, but will especially recall his caring nature and genuine concern for, and interest in the students, parents, teachers and families with whom he came into contact."

A celebration of Mr Hall's life will take place at Stafford Crematorium at 1pm on Monday.

Yule love to buy a gift from trust HQ

VISITORS to a wildlife centre can get a heads up on gifts at a festive fair this weekend.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is hosting the Big Christmas Fair on Saturday and Sunday from 10am to 4pm at its Wolseley Centre headquarters near Rugeley.

Visitors can browse more than 30 stalls offering a range of handmade crafts and gift ideas including bottles of the Trust's fundraising Peregrine ale.

Sam Pachner, fundraising assistant at the trust, said: "This year's event promises to be a magical event. The whole of the ground floor of the Wolseley visitor centre will be filled to the brim with festive fun and festivities."

It comes after the wildlife trust received a grant of just over £7,000 from the Biffa Award, which will enable it to install a number of new features at its Wolseley Centre base.

Work will start in the new year to install a bird hide, family friendly picnic area and wildflower planters at the centre in the new year.

Admission to the fair is £1. For more information call 01889 880100.

THE fresh-faced Gareth Malone popped up on The Choir (BBC2) with a ginger beard. One TV critic demanded: "How come it was that reddish shade when the hair on his head is dark brown?" Simple. It's all in the genes. Some of us (and I write personally) are born into gingerish families, surrounded by carrot-topped siblings, but displaying not a single reddish hair of our own. We are the hidden gingers. One day, usually in our teens, we decide to grow a beard and discover the ginger line. It runs approximately at mid-ear level. Everything on the face above this line is brown, everything below is red. You look so daft you immediately shave it off. The next time you try to grow some stubble, probably at mid-life crisis time, your beard turns out depressingly grey, so you buy a Harley Davison or a nice pair of leather trousers instead, while convincing yourself that your bizarre colouring is a sign of exciting forbears. It's a Viking thing, innit? Probably not.

IF YOU can ignore the silly voice, the sillier clothes and the childlike obscenities, Russell Brand occasionally makes a good point. His frustration at the huge gulf between Parliament and the people goes to the heart of a nation losing all appetite for politics and politicians. There is, as Anne Perkins put it in the Guardian this week: "A great hunger for change and a dangerous sense of powerlessness." I wonder how much this discontent is connected to the sheer size of the Establishment these days. The poor voter is supporting a vast assemblage of parish, district, city and county councillors, members of assemblies in Wales, Ulster and Scotland and members of the European Parliament, not to mention 650 MPs at Westminster and more than 800 members of the House of Lords. By way of comparison the United States, with a population five times that of the UK, manages with just 100 senators and 435 members of the House of Representatives. Our Parliament is far too big but it is a magnificently self-serving organisation, and turkeys do not vote for chestnut stuffing. Even if we magically got rid of 200 MPs they'd probably end up in the Lords with a nice little golden handshake and you and me still paying their wages. Powerlessness doesn't begin to describe it.

Waste firm offers help to life-savers

A WASTE management company has made vital donation to a team of life-saving volunteers.

Burntwood & District Community First Responders were given more than £2,800 from the leading recycling company Veolia Environmental Services.

The money was raised through a fun day at the offices in Kingswood Lakeside and through a bag pack at supermarkets Sainsbury's, Tesco and Morrisons. Paul Dadge, Burntwood CFR chairman said: "We rely entirely on donations from the public and this donation will enable us to pay vehicle insurance and fuel costs into the New Year.

"We are extremely grateful for the support given to us by Veolia."

Burntwood and Community First Responders answer 999 calls on behalf of West Midlands Ambulance Service. They respond to emergency calls from Burntwood through to Cannock, Cheslyn Hay and Great Wyrley.

The team is currently raising money to replace its old response vehicle. They are particularly interested in hearing from anyone who can help with fundraising and they can be contacted on join@burntwood-cfr.org.uk or 0800 01 999 34.

Thousands gather in a tribute to the fallen

THOUSANDS gathered to pay their respects to mark the sacrifice made by the fallen.

A service was held at the National Memorial Arboretum in Alrewas to commemorate Armistice Day on Monday, with a parade led by Lord-Lieutenant of Staffordshire Mr Ian Dudson CBE.

It comes after more than 500 people attended a ceremony in Cannock on Sunday. A service in Hednesford also attracted large crowds.

Chelsea Pensioners Ronald Springfield, aged 72, and Thomas Fraser, 74, travelled from London for the Cannock service.

Twelve standard-bearers headed the parade into the town centre where Deputy Lieutenant of Staffordshire, Mrs Angela Tams, laid the first wreath. Almost 40 poppy garlands were placed as The Salvation Army Band played Elgar's Nimrod.

Cannock Chase District Council was represented by chairman Doris Grice, while wreaths were laid by The Mercian Regiment, 213 Field Company Royal Engineers Association and Aidan Burley MP.

Steven Schnabel, 14, who laid poppies on behalf of the 1st Blackfords Sea Scouts, said: "I think everyone should attend a ceremony on Remembrance Sunday."

Packed

Sharon Jagger, who laid a wreath on behalf of the women's section of the Royal British Legion's Cannock branch, was parading her grandfather's medals for the first time. Harold Dray was fatally wounded on D-Day aged 31.

At Hednesford, around 300 people packed into St Peter's Church for a memorial service ahead of ceremony at the cenotaph on Church Hill. Another 200 lined the route to the war memorial where vicar Rev Paul Kelly paid tribute to those who sacrificed their lives.

The parade, featuring 20 standard bearers, returned to the town and on to the Ex-Servicemen's Club for the laying of the British Legion Wreath at the Boer War Memorial.

Gordon Taylor, 76, who laid a wreath of behalf of the South Staffordshire Regiment, said: "The crowd gets bigger every year."

The parishes of Brereton & Ravenhill, Heath Hayes & Wimblebury and Norton Canes also held services.

The annual parade in Penkridge began in Market Place. A church service took place at St Michael and All Angels Church following a ceremony at the war memorial.

Stock plea as charity shop set for launch

A NEW charity shop opens in Hednesford this weekend.

The Acorns Children's Hospice shop opens its doors in Market Street on Saturday (November 16) at 10am.

It will sell a range of products at bargain prices with all profits going directly to Acorns and to supporting its vital care for life limited and life threatened children.

Retail area manager Lindy Welch said: "We're excited to invite the local community to join our celebrations and be among the first to browse our shelves.

Rewarding

"It currently costs £750 a day to provide care for one child for a day and Acorns relies on donations for the majority of this income.

"We also have many exciting volunteering opportunities including window dressing and sorting stock. It's a really fun and rewarding use of someone's time."

The charity is also appealing for donations of stock including good quality clothing, shoes, toys, books, CDs and DVDs and household items.

Mascot Freda remembered

FORTY people ventured out in the rain for a service on Cannock Chase to remember working dogs.

The annual remembrance ceremony was conducted last Friday at Freda's grave, off Chase Road, Brocton.

The service is inspired by Freda, a Dalmatian-type dog that was the New Zealand Rifles' mascot, when the regiment was stationed on Cannock Chase during the First World War. She died in 1918, while the regiment was training on Cannock Chase, and is buried there.

The event included listening to readings and laying wreaths.

Collision on M6

DRIVERS faced delays after a lorry and two cars crashed on the M6. The smash was in the outside lane between junction 12 for Gailey and 13 for Stafford South at around 7.25am on Monday (November 11). The lane was closed for almost an hour before reopening at 8.20am. No one was injured, police said.

Customers can recycle poppies at superstore

SHOPPERS can recycle their poppies at a Cannock supermarket. An in-store collection point is being set up at Sainsbury's – the only retailer to offer the service.

The poppies will be sent to the Royal British Legion, which will then reuse or recycle them. A return to Sainsbury's of five million poppies will save the Royal British Legion up to £100,000.

Poppies can be taken to the Orbital Way store between November 12 and 24.

Sainsbury's has supported the Poppy Appeal for the last 19 years and Cannock store manager Paul Davis said: "With this recycling initiative, we wanted to show our customers that they can make their poppy go further and enable the Legion to save."

Catherine Gowers, corporate partnerships manager at The Royal British Legion, said: "We will be using all of the recycled poppies we receive to make new ones or to raise funds from the recycled material, all of which will support next year's Poppy Appeal.

Man dies in car collision

A MAN died after his car landed in a ditch following a collision with another vehicle in Cannock.

The collision, involving a green Citroen Xsara Picasso and a silver Porsche Boxster, occurred on Friday at about 3.15pm on the A460 Wolverhampton Road, near the M6 J11 and the M6 Toll island.

The Citroen occupants, a man and woman both aged 23, and a baby, were uninjured. The Porsche driver, 66-year-old George Taylor, of Dorchester Road, Cannock. The man's family has been informed.

Police are appealing for witnesses. Call Sgt Ian Tanner on 101, quoting incident 418 of November 8.

Fundraising tributes to garden centre boss

The Hollybush team present cheques Jo Bailey, Fundraising Manager from Midlands Air Ambulance and Lyssa Emery from Cancer Research UK

GARDEN centre staff have raised £15,000 in memory of a former colleague. Bosses and staff at The Hollybush Garden Centre & Aquaria, near Cheslyn Hay, gathered together to hand over cheques to three charities.

Garden centre managing director Tim Porter lost a battle with cancer earlier this year so bosses and staff at the holding company, The Jack Moody Group, decided to continue Tim's fundraising efforts.

The company's latest fundraiser was a posh frocks and briefcases event in September which saw business leaders from across Staffordshire join the team from Jack Moody Limited, Hollybush Garden Centre and A&D Aquatics, for an evening in memory of Tim.

The Premier Suite, Bar Sport in Cannock hosted the evening of fine wine, dinner, soul music and fundraising fun for more than 220 guests in aid of Midlands Air Ambulance, Cancer Research UK and the Primrose Hospice in Bromsgrove, who have now received £5,000 each to help with their vital work.

Auction lots included a House of Commons bottle of whisky, personally signed by David Cameron and donated by MP Gavin Williamson, and a host of prizes kindly donated by local businesses.

Jack Moody, group chairman said, "Tim was part of the family here and a truly valued member of the team. He began working here at the age of 16 until his death aged 49.

"He is missed everyday by everyone who worked with him and we felt it fitting to help raise money in his honour. We are now looking into carrying out one of Tim's wishes and that is to set up a charity trust fund."

Messines model buried for future generations

by Adam Burling

A SCALE model of one of the First World War's bloodiest battlefields has been reburied under sand to preserve it for future generations.

Archaeologists had unearthed the replica of the Messines model on Cannock Chase to capture a permanent record of the site in time for the centenary commemorations of the First World War in 2014.

It had been planned out in painstaking detail by troops when they returned from the Battle of Messines on the Western Front, fought in June 1917.

Experts said the terrain model was built not only as a training aid for other soldiers at Brocton Camp but in recognition of the horrific toll the battle – fought around the landmark Messines ridge – took on the brigade.

Wounded

The ridge formed an anchor in the German front lines but the week-long offensive of infantry attack, aerial bombardment and heavy shelling resulted in an Allied victory.

The human cost of the battle ran to 50,000 men killed, wounded or missing across both sides. The battle was fought in the build-up to the much larger Passchendaele offensive.

Work started to unearth the model in September so Staffordshire County Council could make a record. It has now been reburied beneath 120 tons of sand.

The model was built in part by German Prisoners of War at Brocton Camp in 1918 under the supervision of the New Zealand Rifle Brigade.

Due to its size and fragile nature it could not be moved or left exposed to the elements.

The project revealed miniature copies, just inches high, of homes, churches and trenches in the Belgian village.

The model, the size of a tennis court, even shows how contour lines, detailing where the land rose and dipped, were mapped out using pebbles.

The Cannock Chase model was intended as both a training aid for soldiers heading to Passchendaele and as a lasting tribute to fallen colleagues.

The protective membrane is laid on top of the First World War Messines model. Picture by Martin Neeves Photography

After archaeologists working with volunteers from the local community unearthed the model, police 'CSI' style lasers were used to scan the site, which is the only surviving replica of its kind in the United Kingdom, to help create a 3D model.

The site of the model had become overgrown since the last military use of the Chase for training during the Second World War. The excavation revealed some damage by tree roots and burrowing animals. If left uncovered it was feared that it would be destroyed within six months.

Around 120 tons excavated from Rugeley Quarry and donated by Cemex provided the first layer of the reburial. The area was then topped with 'rabbit-proof' netting, before a final layer of soil was added.

Amazing

Philip Atkins, leader of Staffordshire County Council, said: "Staffordshire is proud to have such a special link with the armed forces, both past and present, as home to the National Memorial Arboretum and on Cannock Chase itself with the German War Graves.

"It has been fascinating and a real once in a lifetime opportunity to the see the incredible story of the Messines unfold once again and the scale and the detail of the training model used to save lives was absolutely remarkable.

"The volunteers did an amazing job in bringing the Messines back to life and this project will help ensure the legacy of the men who served at Brocton camp and the place they played in history is remembered for generations to come."

The county council now hopes to have the 3D model completed to tie in with centenary commemorations of the Great War next year.

IN MY VIEW WITH MARK ANDREWS

APPEARING this week on the late-night television debating programme The Agenda, former Energy Secretary Chris Huhne talked about the different ways that political careers draw to a close.

"I don't think that was a very dignified way to leave politics," he said, referring to Ann Widdecombe's occasionally less-than-fleet-footed appearances on Strictly Come Dancing. And who could argue with that.

Appearing on a rather silly television programme and competing with a bunch of D-list attention seekers to garner the public vote is no way for any politician to carry on when they leave office. She might as well have stayed where she was.

Fortunately, there are still one or two former politicians who know how to leave office in a manner befitting the dignity of Parliament. Such as getting caught with your pants down after delivering pompous lectures about the importance of family life, to go through a very public divorce, and then finish the full shebang in the slammer after pleading guilty to perjury.

Take a bow, Chris Huhne. You are a credit to your profession.

INCIDENTALLY, in the same appearance Mr Huhne argued that some of the greatest leaders of modern times were those who went straight into politics, without having a career beforehand.

"Take Churchill, he had done nothing outside politics, apart from a bit of gadding about in the Boer War."

I think Mr Huhne is being a bit harsh. Churchill is reported to have come under fire 50 times during his time in the armed forces. During a hasty retreat in India, he witnessed one of his comrades being hacked to death by a Pashtun tribesman, before leading his men to safety.

Then, while 'gadding about' in the Boer War, he escaped a PoW camp and travelled 300 miles through hostile territory.

Now, I realise that being shot at on your 21st birthday or fighting off prison guards in Pretoria might seem like a bit of a soft option compared to discussing wind farms with Vince Cable or sitting in on a EU debate on subsidiarity, but not everyone is cut out for the rough-and-tumble of the Westminster jungle.

Still it's good to know that in the week when politicians of all colours are queuing up to be seen paying tribute to Our Boys that this distinguished elder statesman has lost none of his respect for military service.

Lara Clarke with The Grinch

A yellow and black bike crafted out of cake and icing

The force is strong with Lara and Yoda

The Duchess of Cambridge

Pirate copy is cake show star attraction

LISA O'BRIEN talks to cake-maker extraordinaire Lara Clarke who brings real star quality to her baking creations

LARA Clarke's kitchen rivals Madame Tussauds, with The Duchess of Cambridge, Johnny Depp, Jim Carrey and even Yoda himself all having made an appearance, of sorts.

Inspired by the likes of the Great British Bake Off and Cake Boss, Lara has found a passion – not to mention a talent – for lifelike cake creations.

A life-sized cake version of Johnny Depp as Captain Jack Sparrow? Surely that's every woman's dream!

But what's even more remarkable than the stunning sweet treats themselves, is that 27-year-old Lara only started baking two years ago and is completely self-taught.

Journey

An anniversary cake for her partner's parents was the first – and now she's constantly in demand for weddings and birthdays.

She described the Rice Krispies Johnny Depp as her biggest challenge to date. And, after showing him off at Birmingham NEC's Cake International show, which ended on Sunday (November 10), the cake earned her a gold medal.

It was not without a scare, however, as judges thought it was made out of clay and Lara had to prove it was a cake by taking a knife to the masterpiece.

Lara, who lives with her fiancé and his parents in Brownhills, explained how her passion for baking began.

"I had been watching Cake Boss and just thought I would give it all a go.

"I also got asked to donate a cake to Cheslyn Hay Sport and Community High School for a raffle.

"I did a 4ft tall Jim Carrey Grinch character, which was balancing on one leg so there was an internal support structure.

Lara Clarke at Cake International with her Captain Jack Sparrow creation

"It was made of chocolate sponge and vanilla icing, covered in fondant. There was enough to feed 500 people."

The Grinch cake took 40 hours of work. Other cakes she has crafted include a Yoda chocolate sponge 25th birthday cake for a Star Wars fan, finished off with a glow stick lightsaber.

When Kate Middleton announced her pregnancy, Lara, who works as a chat moderator for an online bingo site, also crafted a white chocolate cake topper of the Duchess in a matter of hours.

Setting up her Facebook page, Tasty Cakes, has also helped drum up more business and requests for crazy designs.

"I get quite a lot of requests," she said. "It's mostly for birthdays or weddings. "Quite a few people from America have asked me for cakes and I've had requests to teach in other countries.

"I've got a food airbrush and I hand paint them with food colouring. I've taught myself from YouTube or TV shows.

"Once I put the radio on, I get into it. It's so much fun. I would love to teach."

She started planning for her lifesize Captain Jack Sparrow cake in April.

The 5ft 5ins replica is made of Rice Krispies and chocolate buttercream and took 125lb of fondant icing, 90 hours of hard labour and a lot of woolly jumpers.

But to keep it cool while in the making, she had to store it in her ice-cold garage and plunge her hands into the freezer before working on it.

Proud

"It had to be done, otherwise it would have collapsed from the heat," she said.

She worked on the towering confection for more than two months in between sleeping and working at her full-time job.

"It's real cake, and I'm proud of that," says Lara. "Apart from the wooden structure to keep it upright, it's filled with Rice Krispies and marshmallows, with a white chocolate head and Demerara sugar for the sand. The whole of it is covered in fondant icing.

"I used 50 two-and-a-half pound packets. I don't like to think of what it all cost me but I'd say easily over £300."

She got the idea from the film she was watching when a friend rang to badger her into entering the show.

"I was watching Pirates of the Caribbean at the time and when she said 'who could you do?' I said 'why not Johnny Depp.'

"That was it. It took 20 hours of planning beforehand but once I started, the execution of it wasn't too bad. I really enjoyed it. It's probably the biggest challenge I've set myself."

THROUGH THE YEARS

1983...

A BITTER war of words broke out between Nottingham Forest manager Brian Clough and Wolves chairman Derek Dougan, with Clough calling for Dougan to be removed from his post. The controversial Forest boss spoke out after his side beat Wolves 5-0. It was reported that the two centre-forwards had not seen eye-to-eye for many years, and that a few weeks earlier Dougan had criticised Clough for his attitude towards televised football.

Girls' night in will fund research to fight cancer

A GREAT Wyrley woman who underwent a heart transplant after needing treatment for cancer as a child is supporting a new fundraising campaign to help fight the disease she has survived.

Louise Hooman-Cox, aged 31, is taking part in The IN Thing, an initiative from Cancer Research UK.

After being diagnosed with bone cancer in her leg at the age of 10, she was delighted when she was given the all-clear three months after surgery.

But the vital chemotherapy treatment she needed before and after her operation caused damage to her heart and just three years ago, Mrs Hooman-Cox found herself undergoing a life-saving heart transplant operation.

Louise Hooman-Cox, Michelle Abnett, Michelle Bayliss and Hazel Hooman

Donate

She will celebrate the 21st anniversary of her remission from cancer by taking part in the campaign, which asks women to rally their girlfriends together for a fun night in and donate the money they would have spent on a night out to life-saving research.

She said: "I had been having trouble with my left knee from around February 1992. My GP was saying it was growing pains but I would come home and just sit on the settee and not move because of how bad the pain was.

"During the summer holidays, I was swimming in north Wales when someone accidentally kicked me in the leg. It swelled up so I was taken to the local hospital and the doctors said they were 90 per cent certain it was cancer."

She was referred to the Royal Orthopaedic Hospital in Birmingham where she began a three-month course of chemotherapy. The cancerous bone was replaced with a metal one.

In 1992, Mrs Hooman-Cox was given the all-clear but has since had two further ops to replace the metal bone.

She said: "I have been fine cancer-wise since I finished my chemotherapy and I am really looking forward to celebrating being 21 years in remission.

"But I had to have a heart transplant three years ago because the chemotherapy affected my heart."

The IN Thing, www.theinthing.org.uk, has been launched to give hosts time to register for their free party packs, invite their friends and get ready to host their gatherings.

They could spend their night in watching movies, having a clothes swap, a karaoke night or dance the night away in a onesie.

Jane Redman, Cancer Research UK spokesman for the West Midlands, said: "The IN Thing is the perfect reason to round up friends for a well-deserved fun night into raise money."

Aquarius the ideal venue for meeting

ON October 28, a Parkinson's meeting was organised by my husband Geoff in the Aquarius. Wow what a lovely place it is now.

This was a first attempt to bring the people with Parkinsons in and around the Chase area together and it was a huge success. More than 50 people attended and they greatly enjoyed it. Hopefully this will become a monthly event.

Everyone seemed to agree the Aquarius was ideal. The owner Mike Allsopp and Tracy were excellent hosts and the room was perfect. There is a small bar where drinks, teas and coffees could be purchased. There is also a lift to the upper floor where the venue is.

Lastly we would like to say thank you to all who helped to make it such an enjoyable event. My husband was extremely pleased at the outcome.

Scrap scheme before it goes too far

YOUR correspondent "Richard" (Chronicle October 31) is obviously a newcomer to Rugeley and is not aware of the history of Horse Fair.

I have been a resident of the town for more than 40 years and remember the three different layouts. Each of the previous changes have brought about an improvement in traffic flow, and while the previous scheme was not ideal, it was the best that Horse Fair has been.

Angi Cooney may have had only two days notice of a consultation meeting but the majority of the residents of Rugeley were not even made aware that a meeting was to be held.

My understanding is that the scheme is to reduce the road from two lanes to a single lane in each direction with the lanes being separated by a parking lane in the middle. Any scheme which requires the occupants of parked cars to cross a lane of traffic in order to reach the footpath is lunacy, as it is an accident waiting to happen.

Have they considered what will happen if a vehicle breaks down in the single lane, or even worse a collision? At least with the previous layout there was sufficient room to overcome such difficulties.

Allowing the scheme to happen and then give it 12 months to see how it goes, which Richard proposes, is foolishness because if it does not work then I guarantee that Staffordshire County Council will not be willing to fund the £500,000 necessary to undo their work.

The scheme needs to be stopped before it goes too far.

Never let facts get in way of an attack

FORMER Tory Councillor John Burnett recently attacked me for alleged hypocrisy about Pye Green Valley. As usual John rarely lets the facts get in the way of a good political attack.

The facts are that planning permission for the housing development on Pye Green Valley was issued in 2009. This was 12 months before I was even elected to Cannock Chase Council but while John was a member of the Tory/Lib Dem coalition that ran the council at that time. John was a member of the planning committee that approved the plans.

Mr Burnett does, albeit reluctantly, admit that Tory & Lib Dem councillors voted for planning permission for the houses but he conveniently forgets to add that it was the Tory controlled Staffordshire County Council that sold the land for development.

A reminder of 1967

AS I walk around Chadsmoor it reminds me of when in 1967 I joined the Army. There was little or no amenities and here we are in 2013, just as in 1967. Nothing. While lots of cash has been spent in Cannock, Hednesford and Rugeley, and quite rightly so, still nothing in Chadsmoor. So come on Cannock Council, what about a few quid for them, they deserve it, just as elsewhere. The young, the old, the fed up.

It's more than just a building

FURTHER to the article in The Chronicle with regard to the axing of day services in Cannock. The council is destroying a whole community of vulnerable people and their families while building an empire of overpaid pen pushers called "Independent Futures".

Whose future are they talking about? It can't possibly be that of the vulnerable people they are dispersing and isolating back to their own homes.

As for saving money, how can it be cheaper to have individuals cared for on a one-to-one basis rather than a collective?

The day service is more than just a building, it is a community of people who enjoy a life together.

As a parent and carer my family situation will be turned upside down without the support of the service. My health will suffer and the same applies to all the other carers I know.

Club is bowled over by bonfire support

HAMMERWICH Cricket Club committee would like to say a huge thank you to the public who supported their bonfire celebrations on November 2. Thanks also to the police and the St John Ambulance for their continued support.

As HCC is run solely by volunteers, every pound spent has to be raised. The support is invaluable and appreciated, enabling the club to go from strength to strength, now fielding six senior teams, four junior teams, plus a ladies XI.

The club extension, opened in 2011, has made it possible to accommodate both sexes and disabled people. The club is also available for hire, birthday parties, christenings, funeral wakes etc. For more, call Ron Box on 01543 685244.

Developer could have been at public meeting

WITH reference to your report of Thursday, October 31 headed 'Developer will fight on'.

Regarding the meetings to discuss the developer's plans to build 141 houses and other buildings on the green belt land between Great Wyrley and Cheslyn Hay. He said he was not invited but, these were public meetings, open to all, so he could, and should have attended.

We live in a democratic country. Surely the permanent distress and feelings of the 2,000-plus residents and families bordering the green belt – and who have very strong objections to the developer's plans, which would cause an unnecessary urban sprawl – should come before the wishes of only one person and his family.

Boxing clever to bring soldiers festive cheer

Isabella Ramsell with the shoeboxes she has collected full of goods for troops

Jake Ridgway in his uniform

A HEARTBROKEN Cannock youngster has launched a Christmas shoebox appeal for troops after learning that her brother cannot make it home for the festive period.

Even though there is a 16 year age gap between eight-year-old Isabella Ramsell and her sibling Jake Ridgway – a serving soldier in Afghanistan – they couldn't be closer.

Isabella and her mother Dee Chilton have been collecting gifts over the past few weeks to pack into boxes and send over to Jake and the rest of his regiment.

Single mother Miss Chilton said: "Jake and Isabella are very close even though there is a 16 year difference.

Report by Laura Blyth

"Jake's her godfather. He is everything to her. He's more like her father than a brother because her father is not around.

"We knew for a while that he would be away for Christmas but it wasn't until he was going over there that it really hit home.

"Me and Isabella teamed up together and decided to start the shoebox appeal."

Jake, aged 24, joined the army three years ago and is a gunner with the 39th Regiment Royal Artillery.

His regiment, which is based at Albemarle Barracks in Newcastle-upon-Tyne, headed over to Afghanistan in September and they will be there for around seven months.

Miss Chilton and Isabella have been collecting bottles of shower gel, sweets, toothbrushes, roll-on deodorant, Pot Noodles and magazines with the help of the charity UK Forces Support.

They now have enough gifts to fill around 60 shoeboxes.

Parents and youngsters at Isabella's school, Gorsemoor Primary in Heath Hayes, have been donating gifts for the cause.

Miss Chilton, 43, will now pack all the boxes and they will sent over to the troops in Afghanistan before the end of this month.

Miss Chilton added: "I know times are tough for people, but I've been blown away by the generosity out there. People have been so kind.

"I'm so proud of both my children."

Diamond wedding bliss for couple

Horace and Doreen Emberton, of Sutherland Road, Cheslyn Hay, celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary

A COUPLE who met a party and wed two years later have celebrated 60 years of marriage.

Doreen and Horace Emberton, of Sutherland Road, Cheslyn Hay, first met in 1951 and went on their first date to the Danilo in Cannock.

To mark their diamond anniversary, they enjoyed a meal at The Trooper in Wall before a party at the Methodist Church Hall in Cannock with about 30 friends and family.

The couple – Mr Emberton is 82 and his wife 80 – have two daughters and four grandsons.

Mrs Emberton said: "We've had a good life – lots of ups and downs, but we've got through them together."

Talks on post office move

BOSSES say closing Cannock's Church Street post office and moving into WH Smith is the only way to maintain its high street presence.

At a public consultation event it emerged that for every £1 of income, it costs £1.74 for the branch to deliver its services.

Stuart Taylor, head of external relations at the Post Office, said: "We've held this forum to get feedback from our customers.

"We need a way of maintaining our presence on the high street and this is it. Our Crown post offices are losing £37 million of public money.

Decision

"Should the decision be made to go ahead, the move will happen by the end of January. There will be no compulsory redundancies."

Mr Taylor said the new post office at WH Smith in Market Square would be more modern and have an open plan. It will also be open for an extra five hours on a Saturday. All the current services it provides will remain.

The consultation runs until November 25.

Cannock South councillor Maureen Freeman said: "It's a shame we are losing our post office but I'm happy it will remain in the town centre."

Eeh, by Gummidge

Cleaner Pauline Pegg and chef Matt Leek dress as Aunt Sally and Worzel Gummidge to collect tins for charity at the Lakeview Care Home, Stafford Road, Great Wyrley

RESIDENTS could reminisce at a Great Wyrley care home thanks to a visit from 'Wurzel Gummidge' and 'Aunt Sally'.

The 1980s TV characters, alias chef Matt Leek and cleaner Pauline Pegg, visited Lakeview Care Home, Stafford Road, on Monday to celebrate the autumn harvest.

The pair wandered around the home, chatting to residents about the past. They also helped to promote the home's latest charity collection of food items and tins.

Chris Carr, activities co-ordinator at Lakeview, which is owned by Alpha Care Homes, said: "We thought it would be a great way of celebrating the late harvest, and also helping to promote our community food collection scheme.

""Lots of our residents remembered the Wurzel Gummidge series and we also had lots of fun watching DVDs of the show."

Review on pub licence after teen girls served

A HEDNESFORD pub is facing a licence review after serving alcohol to under-age drinkers.

The Samson Blewitt in Rosehill was one of two pubs in the town caught in a police sting in August. It served girls aged 15 and 16.

Six new conditions have also been put on the licence of the Hen House in Eskrett Street after a second breach in two years.

It was ordered to only accept valid photographic identification as proof of age, must keep a register of refused sales to under 18s and improve staff training following its latest offence.

by Kirsten Rawlins

Compliance

The Punch Tavern-run pub first ran into trouble in December 2011 when girl of 15 was sold alcohol.

In August, two girls aged 15 and 16 were sent in as part of another compliance test operation and were served WKD vodka. It was filmed by trading standards officers. In 2011 an £80 fixed penalty notice was issued but this time Punch Taverns and manager Sharon Hughes have been given the additional conditions.

The police have asked Cannock Chase Council to review The Samson Blewitt pub's licence. It comes after two under-age girls were served alcopops during a test purchase.

The staff member was formally interviewed by police and given a fixed penalty notice.

In a letter to the council, Michelle Hazlewood from John Gaunt & Partners on behalf of the pub, said: "The application for review relates to a single failed test purchase on August 25.

"Within the review application no reference is made to any other incidents arising at the premises."

A decision will be made tomorrow (Friday).

Signed Wolves cards fetch £450 at auction

The postcards signed by the 1939 Wolves team

ELEVEN rare black and white postcards signed by the 1939 Wolves FA Cup final team sold for £450 at an auction in London.

Runners-up in the league, Wolves were also beaten in the FA Cup Final, going down 4-1 to Portsmouth.

The signed pictures were bought by a mystery bidder at Graham Budd Auctions at Sotheby's.

Among the players featured on the cards are a youthful Stan Cullis, who went on to become a great Wolves boss from 1948 and 1964. Also pictured are Wolves' two leading scorers in the 1938-39 season, Dennis Westcott and Dicky Dorsett who between them scored 58 of Wolves' 88 league goals that year.

Westcott scored 32 while Dorsett, affectionately known as The Brownhills Bomber after his birthplace, got 26. Dorsett also scored in the Cup final.

The other eight Wolves stars featured on the cards are: Tom Galley, Bill Morris, Frank Taylor, Teddy Maguire, Joe Gardiner, Stan Burton, 6ft 4ins goalkeeper Alex Scott, who would have turned 100 on Monday, and Dunfermline-born Alex McIntosh, the only non-Englishman among the XI.

MP praises cancer care programme

A FLAGSHIP cancer programme devised in Staffordshire has been praised by a government minister.

NHS leaders across the county are working with Macmillan Cancer Support to transform the way patients – or those at the end of their lives are cared for and supported.

The project has been highlighted by Care and Support Minister Norman Lamb as one of 14 pioneering projects across the country that are using innovative ways to look at how health and care is being delivered to patients by bringing services closer together than before.

Norman Lamb MP

Launched

The project sees five of Staffordshire's Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCGs) and Macmillan working together.

The Transforming Cancer and End of Life Care Programme was launched last month and covers Cannock and Stafford as well as Stoke-on-Trent, North and East Staffordshire.

It will look at commissioning services in a new way so there would be one organisation for the overall provision of cancer care and one for end of life care.

Andrew Donald, chief officer of Cannock Chase and Stafford and Surrounds CCG, said: "Here in Staffordshire we want to provide people with world-class cancer and end of life care and it is good to see that the work we're doing has been nationally recognised.

"But for us this is all about our patients. We know from patient experience that some feel lost in the system and don't know where to turn to for help or direction and that is clearly not good enough. " he added.

It is hoped that the new service could be running from April 2015.

Yoxall ramble destination

A MODERATE eight-mile walk near Yoxall, including Jackson's Bank and Hoar Cross, is this weekend's offering by the Chase & District Group Ramblers. Departure time on Sunday is 9am from Hednesford rail station car park, Anglesey Street.

Divine introduction

Vicar of Dunston, Rev Kareen Lowther with pupils, from left, Isabelle Ford and William Farmer, both aged four, and Grace and Turnbull, five at St Leonard's Primary

A NEW vicar is going back to school to get to know her parishioners. The Rev Kareen Lowther, has taken over as vicar of St Leonard's, Dunston and is setting up her base in a divine location, St Leonard's Primary School.

She says the church can have a big part to play in bringing together scattered and sometimes isolated rural communities, as job opportunities shrink in the countryside and people have to travel further to work.

"I feel the church can be an important focal point bringing people together and helping their sense of community identity," she said.

She is setting up a drop-in 'vicar's desk' on Tuesdays and Wednesdays each week at St Leonard's in Dunston.

Mrs Lowther has come to Dunston from Bloxwich, where she was vicar for nine years.

Anti-freeze fear after number of cat deaths

A GREAT Wyrley vet is warning pet owners to be on their guard following a spate of cat poisonings in the village.

Hamish Duncan, of 387 Veterinary Centre, in Walsall Road, says he has seen a rise in the number of cats from the Bentons Lane area needing urgent medical attention.

Five cats from the same street were taken in with poisoning within the last three months. Mr Duncan believes they may have been deliberately targeted with anti-freeze.

by Charlotte Lilley

Healthy

"I have run blood tests on each of the cats, which were all young and healthy up until they were brought in to us," he said.

"The tests showed they had kidney failure which is synonymous with drinking anti-freeze.

"We usually get one or two cats brought in to us who have drunk the solution during the winter, because that is when people are using it most, but some of the poisonings took place in the summer, which has led me to believe that this is deliberate.

"One woman who lives on Bentons Lane has had to have two of her cats put down because of this. She was distraught and it was very upsetting.

"It is very unpleasant and distressing for cats when it gets in their system and if it stays there longer than 24 hours, there is not much we can do."

"I hope whoever is doing this will stop once they know what pain they are causing to an innocent animal."

RSPCA spokesman Nicola Walker said: "It is really sad to hear that so many cats have died and, while we do not know if this was deliberate or accidental, we do want to remind people that deliberately poisoning an animal could mean a £20,000 fine or six months in prison."

Children will be able to visit Santa at the Gailey venue from 11am on Sunday (November 17), until Christmas Eve.

The garden centre's charity partner Make-A-Wish Foundation UK – which grants magical wishes to children fighting life-threatening conditions.

Second inquest date ends lengthy wait by parents

A SECOND inquest on a cyclist who died after a blunder by Stafford Hospital doctors will take place in April next year.

John Moore-Robinson died in April 2006 after medics failed to spot his ruptured spleen following a mountain bike accident on Cannock Chase.

His parents, who fought for six years for a fresh inquiry, said they were happy to finally have a date for a new inquest.

Answers

At a pre-inquest hearing in Leicester last Friday (November 8), John's father Frank Robinson said: "I think we will now get a full investigation into John's death. We can now move forward. Seven-and-a-half years we have been waiting for this.

"The first inquest fell very short of the mark into the circumstances of John's death.

"Hopefully we will get the answers that we have been striving for."

The inquest will start in Leicester on April 28. Senior coroner for Leicester, Mrs Catherine Mason, said a jury would not be needed. She added there would be 12 witnesses in total giving evidence during the four-day inquest including friends of John who were with him when he came off his bike.

They will also include nurses and doctors from Stafford Hospital, a paramedic and pathologist.

John, aged 20, was sent home from Stafford Hospital but bled to death less than 24 hours later. He died at Leicester Royal Infirmary after calling 999.

Staffordshire Police is still investigating the death.

In September the Robinsons, who live in Coalville, Leicestershire, learned they had won a six-year fight for a second inquest.

Talk topic riding for disabled

PENKRIDGE WI

IN September Doug Smith gave a talk about the work of Riding for the Disabled and his connection with the local group at Bradley.

Riding for the Disabled groups were set up to improve the quality of life of people with a disability. It was soon realised that riding was therapeutic and helpful with their mobility. Pupils are taught how to sit on a horse to help with their balance and posture.

As part of their education they are taught how to look after their pony.

As they progress and gain confidence they are introduced to dressage, show jumping, driving a cart and a variety of other activities.

In the future it is hoped to stage a Special Olympics for the children.

In England there are 500 groups, 20,000 volunteers with 3,500 horses and ponies. In October Ian Bott gave an interesting talk about "Lost Mansion Houses."

It was common practice in the 18th century for the landed gentry to purchase land, build a house then lease it.

West Midlands Mansion Houses included Teddesley Hall, Sandwell Priory, Bescot Manor, Bradley Hall, Wollaston Hall, Perry Hall, Wolseley Hall and Oakswell Hall to name a few.

Members enjoyed the informative description of the buildings and the history of the families who inherited them.

Crime commissioner welcomed to meeting

Rotary Club president Christopher Spruce, Matthew Ellis and Peter Holliday

LICHFIELD ROTARY CLUB

PRESIDENT Christopher Spruce was delighted that Police and Crime Commissioner accepted an invitation to speak to Lichfield Rotary Club at the October meeting and that so many friends, family and other club members could attend.

Mr Ellis's speech was wide ranging and described all aspects of the work of Staffordshire Police and included future plans. The audience had a much better appreciation of the current and future position as a result of the commissioner's comprehensive talk. Mr Ellis also paid tribute to the Rotary Club by saying that such organisations play a key role in making a difference to local communities.

Peter Holliday thanked the Commissioner for his very informative talk and Mr Ellis was able to stay and continue informal talks with members.

Stratford outing enjoyed

CANNOCK WI

TREASURER Mary Fullelove conducted the meeting as President Chris Pace was on holiday.

Congratulations were given to Jan Anderson and Rosemary Larkin on their 'Big O' birthdays, and birthday wishes passed on to Sheila, Pauline, Val, Dori and Audrey.

Kay Matthews, now in her 94th year, has flown on her own to enjoy a holiday with friends in America. The ladies are awaiting the return of Sue to hear her experiences of her visit to Peru. Tricia Logan was congratulated on the arrival of her new granddaughter.

New members Audrey Ely and Betty Howard Evans were welcomed to the WI.

Thanks to Joyce Guillaume and helper Bronwen who sold £61 of cards to help towards the funds.

The Stratford day outing was greatly enjoyed and the craft day at Breedon on the hill was excellent.

Fundraisers for Birmingham's Dogs Home Julie and June gave an excellent talk and photograph display of dogs that had been rescued and looked after by the home. Stella Winfield gave the vote of thanks on behalf of members.

Members then enjoyed a lovely lunch at The Rag Restaurant.

No pretence as rockers support Papa Roach

A CHASE band will provide the opening support for US rockers Papa Roach in germany after winning a competition.

False Pretence, a five-piece with members from Cannock, Penkridge and Stafford, will open the concert in Weisbaden after winning the contest organised by independent label Eleven Seven Music. False Pretence, featuring Adam Willden, Ryan Hicks, Adam Wain, Ben McCormick and Paul Geheb, also won the chance to meet and greet Papa Roach. To enter, the band were required to submit a music video, which was then shortlisted to just two bands for the venue.

The decision went out to a public vote online, where False Pretence won outright. They are now planning their journey to Weisbaden later this month. For more about False Pretence, the gig in Germany, or to watch the winning video, visit www.facebook.com/falsepretence

Alert as poaching on rise

POILICE say criminals are travelling from across the UK to poach and maim deer and game in Staffordshire.

Poachers are reportedly heading to the Chase from as far away as Manchester and Leeds with the growing trend of long-distance wildlife crime blamed on the economic downturn.

Wildlife experts say there is also a rising number of deer being shot or savaged by poachers' dogs for meat, while he ancient blood sport of hare coursing is resurgent.

Sgt Mark Kitchen, wildlife crime officer for Staffordshire Police, was called out to the Chase last Wednesday after a severed deer head was discovered near Rugeley.

Downturn

"All that had been left behind was the severed deer head and a lot of blood," said Sgt Kitchen. "Because of the economic downturn, poaching and stealing game is becoming a way of making money for people travelling to Staffordshire from all over the country.

"People who carry out these activities should not come into Staffordshire because we will prosecute."

Derek Crawley, chairman of the Wildlife and Countryside Protection Group, said: "The number of crimes being reported is going up and up."

Supt Simon Tweats, lead officer for wildlife crime said: "We are determined to tackle the issues."

County's NHS salaries are questioned by MP

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has criticised the size of NHS salaries in Staffordshire after it emerged 490 people within the service are on more than £100,000 a year.

Tory MP Burley asked the Department of Health how many NHS staff in Staffordshire were earning more than £50,000. He was told in a written answer that 1,480 people were on more than £50,000, that 990 were on more than £65,738 and that 490 were on at least £100,000 a year.

Mr Burley said: "With the average salary in Cannock Chase at around £23,000, I find it difficult to understand how so many high salaries can be justified in a single county."

Big business for JCB boss as he takes up Lords seat

THE chairman of Staffordshire-based JCB – now Lord Bamford – says he wants to see a transformation of the manufacturing and engineering economy in the UK.

The Tory peer, who took up his seat in the House of Lords last week, hopes to see an all-party campaign to oversee the transformation.

Tory peer Lord Bamford

He intends to champion Staffordshire and the wider Midlands manufacturing base.

As Sir Anthony Bamford, the son of JCB founder Joseph Cyril Bamford, has led the Staffordshire-based digger giant as chairman since 1975 through unprecedented growth that has seen its exports soar and its number of plants increase to 11 in the UK, including JCB Cab Systems in Rugeley, and another 11 around the globe.

Lord Bamford, aged 68, hopes to use his expertise in exporting to support efforts to boost the UK's balance of trade and the need for long term planning for economic growth, in particularly the small and medium-sized enterprises of the region.

Rail

"It is such an important subject it needs to be tackled through an all-party agreement in my view," he said.

The new peer is not convinced of the benefits of the high speed rail project, HS2, which would pass through Staffordshire.

"I use the train often from Stafford to London and it works very well. I am not sure why it needs to be any quicker," he added.

He said he would be pressing for improvements to the roads and airports ahead of the rail scheme.

He is also advocating more businesses being located in rural areas rather than in cities to reduce transport congestion.

Cash award for new trust HQ features

A POPULAR free attraction is to make its visitor experience even better thanks to an environmental grant.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's Wolseley Bridge HQ has benefited to the tune of more than £7,000 from Biffa Award, a multi-million pound community fund.

The cash will enable trust bosses to put in a number of new features at the Wolseley Centre, which is set in 26 acres of grounds and attracts almost 100,000 visitors per year. A bird hide, picnic area and wildflower planters will be installed in the new year.

Alison Rhodes, visitor centre manager said: "We're absolutely delighted to receive this grant. The new features will enable visitors to get even closer to nature at the centre.

"We have lots on offer for families, including a host of natural play features and nature trails for youngsters."

Talk on wild side

PETER Coxhead gives an illustrated talk on Sutton Park and its habitats at a Cannock group meeting of the Staffordshire Wildlife Trust next Wednesday, November 20. It takes place at St Luke's Church Centre at 7.30pm. Cost is £1.50.

Recycling schedule delivered to homes

CALENDARS showing the latest schedule for waste and recycling collections are being delivered across Cannock Chase. They will be distributed to more than 40,000 homes.

Council bosses want to improve the authority's 52 per cent recycling rate. Environment leader Councillor Carl Bennett, said "The annual waste and recycling calendar informs residents which bin goes out and when and includes arrangements for all public bank holidays, as well as a reminder about what items should go in each bin."

Jack joins fundraising gravy train

Mark Bowdler from the Lido Club hands over a cheque to Carol Dodd on behalf of Breast Cancer Care

FUNDRAISERS collected £2,865 for Breast Cancer Care at a Norton Canes Club. Ruth Johnson, who organised the event with her husband Lloyd, said it had been arranged to celebrate 21 years since her auntie Carol Coxall was given the all-clear from breast cancer.

Lloyd's son Jack, aged 14, sat in a bath of gravy and vegetables to raise money for the cause at the Lido, in School Road, while family friend Mark Bowdler had his chest and armpits waxed.

A raffle and auction helped to boost the funds, with prizes and monetary donations from generous businesses. A cheque has now been handed over to representatives.

Business boost unveiled

AMBITIOUS plans to create 50,000 jobs and increase the size of Staffordshire's economy by 50 per cent have been unveiled.

The region is to scoop £138.4 million in European grants – and business leaders say the cash will be pumped into creating employment and boosting industry. They want to attract investment and encourage major employers, like Amazon in Rugeley, to expand while also working with tourist attractions such as Alton Towers.

The vision has been outlined in a new report by the Stoke-on-Trent and Staffordshire Enterprise Partnership.

Bosses say they will look for key employment sites that can be promoted across the globe, and improve transport links across town and city centres. Colleges and businesses will also be encouraged to hold apprenticeships and training courses.

Among the ideas are a £6.5m scheme to encourage start-up businesses and a £6m 'growth hub' to provide support for smaller firms.

County council leader Philip Atkins said: "Creating more jobs by supporting business and attracting investment is the council's number one priority."

'Shave guru' has the edge in male grooming stakes

Mark Sproston and owner Rachel Lamey at the salon in Rugeley

'Shave Doctor' Mark Sproston

MARK Sproston is a man with a mission in a cut-throat world.

Known as the 'Shave Doctor', he wants to convert men to old-style wet shaves. At the very least, he believes they should treat themselves to a professional shave each time they have a haircut.

The 44-year-old who grew up in Stafford, says he would ideally like to recreate barber shops as seen in the classic 1990s sitcom Desmond's – 'little communities where men can come and talk,' he says.

The former King Edward VI School pupil, who does some work at the Rachel Lamey hair and beauty salon in Rugeley, discovered a need for his skills after setting up his own company supplying shaving products in 2006. Demonstrating the goods at shows up and down the country, he began getting calls from beauty salons and spas who wanted to learn how to give male customers a professional shave.

Since then he has developed the business in a different direction and reckons in that time he has shaved more than 40,000 chins.

Reality

He has also brought out his own range of lemon and tea tree oil-based shaving products and in recent months has found his star rising even higher.

Last week he appeared in the new MTV reality show Beauty School Cop Outs and at the end of the month he has been asked to take part in a celebrity shave-in at Westminster Bridge in London marking the end of Movember, the annual moustache-growing charity event.

He has set up teams in Australia and Greece, launches in Belgium and the Netherlands in April and has plans to expand the business to South Africa.

He says: "It's hard work but I'm passionate about what I do and that keeps me going."

Around 80 per cent of his clients are women who want to offer the service in salons but who cannot afford the time to take a 12-month NVQ barbery course.

The father-of-two, who now lives in Little Haywood, passes on his knowledge in a packed two days at the hair and beatuty salon in Horse Fair.

Little to smile about – this rare photograph shows the inside West Bromwich's Union Workhouse laundry, in Hallam Street

Albion stars Brian Whitehouse, Don Howe, and Roy Horobin sign their first professional contracts in 1950

'The Golden Mile' – the name given the long stretch of West Bromwich High Street, which is pictured looking towards Dartmouth Square in around 1920

The unique No 14 bus from West Bromwich to Walsall

The sideways-facing armchairs of the No 14 bus

All aboard bucket seats on the unique No14 bus

THERE is a sense of almost boyish excitement as Terry Price pores over the pictures in his new book.

by Mark Andrews

"I was really chuffed when I got that one," he says, pointing to the interior shot of a bus.

Terry just loves photographs of West Bromwich. It doesn't matter whether they are from 1901 or 1994, to the retired television engineer every picture tells a story.

His latest book, West Bromwich Recollections, is his seventh such publication, and the discovery of every picture brings with it fresh excitement.

The interior of the bus was a real find, and is unique in that instead of the usual forward-facing seats, the top deck has a line of bucket-style armchairs facing sideways.

"In 1930, around the time the picture was taken, the route from West Bromwich to Walsall would have been through open countryside, and the seats were designed to allow passengers to look out of the windows and enjoy the view," he says.

The view would certainly have been very different from the scene today, but it is not hard to pity the poor conductor, who would have had the unenviable task of clambering up the narrow gangway alongside the seats.

Another interesting curio is the 'Threepenny Bit' fish and chip shop in Parsonage Street, which takes its name not from the price of the chips – that would have been remarkable, even in 1967 – but from its curious geometric profile. Sadly, it was demolished around 13 years ago.

Terry believes the 1923 photograph showing the inside of the world-famous Hudson's soap works is the only one in existence – Robert Spear Hudson was the inventor of modern soap powder.

Included are images of West Bromwich Albion players signing their first professional contracts, as well as a magnificent beacon built to celebrate King George V's Silver Jubilee in 1935.

The area covered is broader than many publications, taking in places such as Great Bridge and Friar Park.

For Terry, recording West Bromwich's past is very much a labour of love. He has never made a penny from any of his seven books, having donated all the proceeds to local charities.

He ruminates over the changes of the past few decades. "They used to call West Bromwich High Street the Golden Mile, because there was that long stretch of shops. The shopkeepers would have lived nearby and their children would have gone to the local school." Then he pauses for thought. "You do realise that we are the last generation that will be able to remember the high street, don't you?"

● West Bromwich Recollections by Terry Price is available from the author priced £9.99 on 01922 635891.

Campaign launched for Altern 8 Christmas No 1

Mark Archer, who was one half of the duo Altern 8

Altern 8, Mark Archer and Chris Peat in chemical suits

A CAMPAIGN has been launched to get a track featuring a then three-year-old Burntwood girl to the top of the festive charts.

A 90s techno classic has emerged as a leading contender to take the coveted Christmas number one slot ahead of the winning X Factor single.

The dedicated Facebook page has been set up for the song Activ 8 by rave duo Altern 8.

Friends Chris Peat, of Gnosall, Stafford, and Mark Archer, just failed to reach the stop slot back in 1991 when the song got to No 3.

The pair, who appeared on Top Of The Pops, were famed for performing in chemical warfare suits and dust masks.

Support for the campaign, launched by a fan in Brighton, has rocketed with 18,500 likes registered on the website.

Mark Archer, now a 44-year-old DJ and record producer, said: "It was the last thing I expected. I got sent the campaign link a couple of Fridays ago and there were six likes. Now it's taken off.

"I have no idea why they chose us or that song but I'm very flattered."

The record featured the voice of three-year-old Clair Rushton, of Burntwood, whose phrase 'nice one, top one, get sorted' became a mantra for the rave scene.

Successful

She is now 25 and married, says Mark, himself now a father-of-three.

It was the band's most successful song, kept off the top spot only by Michael Jackson's comeback single Black Or White and, at No 2, Vic Reeves and the Wonder Stuff's version of Dizzy, and stayed in the charts for almost three months.

Commercially Altern 8 were at the peak of their career. They had been performing as Nexus 21 and started Altern 8 as a side project.

"We travelled up and down the UK doing PAs and we toured the world," Mr Archer said. The pair split over professional differences and have not been in contact for years.

But Mr Archer says: "The whole idea is that we're doing it for a laugh. I've not got a burning hatred of X Factor but I do think it gives a false idea about the industry."

He is not sure how he would react if the campaign is successful.

"I can remember being told when we got to No. 3. I was living in a little terraced house in Sandon Road.

"I put the phone down and just stood there. I'd probably do exactly the same again."

The campaign page can be found at www.facebook.com/altern8xmas

Policemen to pound streets for charity run

TWO police officers will be put through their paces in a charity challenge.

Pcs Paul Baron and Stuart Mahon, will raise money for a teenager who suffers from a condition that causes her spine to curve.

They are taking on a 10km Scorpion Run at Project Paintball, at Lower Drayton, near Penkridge. It will involve an assault course, water obstacles and running whilst carrying a log.

They are raising the funds for 13-year-old Megan Stokes who suffers with scoliosis, epilepsy and autism.

The pair, both from Stafford, are hoping to raise more than £10,000 to help improve her living conditions and for an extension to be built at her home to house a bathroom, toilet and bedroom.

Stuart Mahon, left, and Paul Baron who are set to take part in the charity 10k Scorpion Run in Penkridge

The youngster, also from Stafford, had surgery at Birmingham Children's Hospital yesterday (Wednesday) to remove two spinal discs in a bid to help straighten her spine.

Mr Baron, who works for Staffordshire Police and is based at Lichfield police station, said they were raring to take on the challenge.

The 46-year-old grandfather-of-one said: "Megan is my wife's friend's daughter. My wife was telling me about her needs.

Extension

"I can't think of a better cause to raise money for. I haven't met her but have been told she is a lovely kid. The extension will give her a better quality of life.

"We are also doing a raffle and will be running up the Llanberis track at Mount Snowdon in the future to raise more money."

Mr Baron and 41-year-old Mr Mahon, a father-of-one who works at Walsall police station, will take on the scorpion run on November 23.

To offer donations or raffle prizes towards the cause, email Mr Baron at hall6916@gmail.com

Donations in store as charities are supported

A SUPERMARKET has donated a total of £1,000 to two charities nominated by the public. Tesco Rugeley asked customers to nominate their favourite charities for a grant of £500.

They chose The Children's Air Ambulance and brain tumour research fund Trudy's Trust. Store manager Ruth Brown said: "We are delighted to be able to support these charities which were nominated by many of our customers."

Cannock Chase Aidan Burley, who helped present the charities' prizes, said: "It is fantastic that Tesco are supporting important local charities like Trudy's Trust and the Children's Air Ambulance – and even better that these charities were chosen by local shoppers and staff."

Brave Orla chosen to switch-on town lights

A BRAVE Penkridge schoolgirl who has endured gruelling rounds of intensive leukaemia treatment will turn on the Christmas lights in Stafford next weekend.

Orla Fielder said she was 'shocked' to be picked from a total of 15 inspirational children who were nominated for the role.

Orla and sister Georgia

Orla, from Castlefields, Stafford, was diagnosed with leukaemia last year and has undergone chemotherapy, lumbar punctures and transfusions during many visits to hospital.

But despite everything 11-year-old Orla, who attends Penkridge Middle School, still managed to complete the Race For Life with her team raising more than £4,000 for charity.

Deserves

Big sister Georgia, 18, who nominated Orla, said: "I am so pleased she has been chosen. She truly is a star and I can't think of anyone else who deserves this honour more than her.

"I am so proud to be her big sister and can't wait for her to have her place in the limelight."

Orla also received two more nominations as part of the competition to find an inspirational youngster. She said: "I am so shocked. I can't believe they've chosen me. It's a fantastic surprise and I can't wait to do it."

Orla will perform the switch-on ceremony alongside the mayor of Stafford, Councillor Angela Loughran on Saturday, November 23 at 5pm.

The fun starts at 11am with the Santa parade through the town, with some of the other nominations taking part as guests of the borough council.

Students play part to restore the habitat

STAFFORD college students have helped to restore a rare natural habitat.

The students, who are working towards a BTEC Level three diploma in countryside management, joined Staffordshire Wildlife Trust volunteers in helping to restore an area of Forestry Commission heathland as part of the Connecting Cannock Chase project.

Wildlife Trust biodiversity co-ordinator Bernadette Noake said: "The students will not only gain fantastic hands-on experience, but also play a part in helping improve biodiversity on this precious heathland site."

The public can do its bit to help restore the heathland by taking part in a volunteer day next Wednesday, November 20.

To book, call 01889 880121, email sbap@staffs-wildlife.org.uk or visit www.staffs-wildlife.org. uk/connecting-cannock-chase

Christmas fair

PUPILS from the town's St Joseph's Primary will open a Hednesford church festive fair on Saturday, November 23. It starts at 11am at Our Lady of Lour-des, Uxbridge Street, with stalls, tombola, bric-a-brac, refreshments and a visit from Santa Claus.

Hairdresser heading for competition final

A GREAT Wyrley hairdresser is heading for the final of a national competition. Jamie Richards, a former apprentice from City of Wolverhampton College, was named as one of just three finalists in ghd's Spotlight competition.

The 25-year-old director at Richard's Hair in Wardles Lane posted a photograph of his modern twist on the classic ponytail onto the ghd website. His entry was 'liked' by more than 5,400 people to earn him a place in the final.

Jamie said: "It feels great to get through to the finals."

He will compete against the two other finalists in an editorial style photo shoot, for the chance to win a backstage pass to work at London fashion week next February.

GAME REVIEWS

Time to heed Duty's call – or return to Gotham with Batman

THE BAT is back but he's not particularly better In Batman Arkham Origins (16), third part of the Arkham series that has helped reinvent the Dark Knight for gamers.

WB Montreal has taken over from London-based Rocksteady as the game developer and has done a steady reliable job on the franchise rather than bringing any radical new aspects to the Batman saga.

This is a prequel to Arkham Asylum with a five-years-younger Batman having to face down the world's most deadly assassins after crime boss Black Mask puts a bounty on the head of the caped crusader. To complicate matters, Gotham has been hit by a big winter snow storm and the local police department are once again proving to be rather unhelpful to the vigilante superhero. And another supervillain, The Riddler under his previous guise of Enigma, is providing additional challenges.

Caped crusader back in action in Batman Arkham Origins

Gadgets

But Batman's handy array of gadgets mean there is a solution to every problem as our hero glides around Gotham using his cape and sometimes firing his Batclaw for a boost or his Batarang to take out enemies or open doors. New gizmos include a very handy Remote Claw for creating a zip wire between two fixed points, or to send enemies crashing into each other, and Shock Gloves to pack his punch with high voltage. Whilst most of the criminal goons are no match for our hero, Batman does have some increasingly gruelling encounters with such new villains as the hulking Enforcer.

Batman achieves victory with a mix of stealth and violence and there is more emphasis here on his detective skills. As well as the X-ray-like vision that enables our hero to check out a room of assailants in advance and make a plan of action, there is a new ability here via the Batcomputer to review the scene of crime to explore various scenarios and hunt for clues.

And when it comes to trading blows, the balletic Freeflow combat system is still staggeringly good.

In multiplayer mode, there are opportunities to play as Batman or Robin or as one of The Joker or Bane's gang.

Overall, WB Montreal seem to have taken the 'if it ain't broke why fix it' approach which explains why this game is good rather than great.

The return of Batman was soon overshadowed by the arrival of Call of Duty Ghosts (16), which got dedicated gamers queuing up to get their hands on the biggest game of the year

It certainly lives up to its hefty price tag with an all-action romp that switches from Los Angeles experiencing armageddon to a zero gravity battle on a space station within the first ten minutes.

On Duty yet again as the Ghosts take on The Federation

The new installment is set in the near future where a united South America, called the Federation, launches a sneak attack on the USA by hi-jacking city-blasting space weapon Odin. Then we fast-forward a few years to a post-apocalypse vision of America where the remaining US troops are involved in a guerilla war against the Federation.

It's a far-fetched but absorbing story, initially more character driven then previous CoDs. It looks fantastic and will easily absorb gamers for a whole day, at the least.

New to multiplayer is the chance to forge your own highly customised cohort of troopers. You could hone your supertrooper for months or just dive into the gun-blazing action. Either way, you get plenty of bang for your buck.

Rebel rousers don't do subtle

The Wolfe Tones, Emerald Club, Cross Street North, Wolverhampton

THERE is nothing subtle about Irish band The Wolfe Tones, they may have been around for 50 years but their rebel rousing, political edge and anti-English establishment sentiment has not dulled in the least.

This is their last tour and it could well be a good move as there is now an anachronistic quality to their hit-you-between-the-eyes style and jingoism. This is not to say the wrongdoings of the British Government in Ireland can be forgotten but there comes a time to move on.

There was an atmosphere more akin to a football match with Brian Warfield doing his best to whip up the patriotic fervour. They opened with the politically-charged Sunday Bloody Sunday, lyrics by John Lennon, with Warfield on banjo, Tommy Byrne on guitar and vocals and Noel Nagle on tin whistle.

The audience seemed to be in two factions those who were there to listen to the music of an Irish band and those who wanted to show their fervent patriotic feelings through terrace style chanting and singing, but it was not aggressive or intimidating.

Warfield preceded most songs with some kind of political comment and continued to try to stoke a rebel rousing atmosphere with songs such as God Save Ireland.

The concert went on past midnight finally ending with the Irish national anthem and had lasted best part of two hours, so you can't say the Tones don't give value for money.

Bugg breaks into a smile at sing-along

Jake Bugg, 02 Academy, Birmingham

SERIOUS young singer-songwriter Jake Bugg let his pokerface slip twice during the third of his sell-out Birmingham dates, revealing that rarest of sights – a Jake Bugg smile.

The 19-year-old from Nottingham seemed surprised by the response of the Birmingham crowd, who sang along with every song from his chart-topping self-titled debut album like they were 20-year-old classics.

But then the talented teenager – who upset 1D fans by criticising their manufactured pop icons – does write (and co-writes) guitar-driven songs with an authentic heritage feel. Songs such as Lightning Bolt (the final encore of his 70-minute set) could have come from the 1950s skiffle era.

Whilst other teens have been watching The X-Factor, Bugg has been listening to old Neil Young, Donovan and blues records. But the lyrics often tackle the gritty business of growing up in broken Britain, as on Two Fingers and Trouble Town.

Energy

Songs from his soon-to-be-released second album Shangri La, recorded in Malibu with Metallica and Johnny Cash producer Rick Rubin, show a heavier direction with the Jake Bugg trio delivering an epic wall-of-sound.

But Bugg has not abandoned his acoustic style. Ballad A Song About Love, also from the new album, was passionately delivered whilst Slumville Sunrise has similar kinetic energy to Lightning Bolt.

Jake Bugg – smiled, twice

Support came from rootsy country duo HoneyHoney from Los Angles (nice but samey) and Bath band of brothers The Family Rain, a powerhouse trio featuring the Walter siblings. They have hairy heavy rock tendencies and should be worth checking out when they play The Institute in Digbeth on Saturday, November 23.

Pilgrims' prowess

Pilgrims' Way Newhampton Folk Club, Newhampton Inn, Wolverhampton

FOR a four piece band Pilgrims' Way have the baggage of a travelling orchestra.

The great thing is they are not for show, the band is versatile and wonderfully talented and switch instruments ad infinitum including the hurdy gurdy, the kazoo, Jew's/jaw harp, squeezebox, accordion, various fiddles, guitars and mandolin.

There is also a fantastic energy and enthusiasm when they perform.

Elf-like Lucy Wright, mainly on vocals but also playing second fiddle – an ironic misnomer – and Jew's harp, she even threw in a little dancing.

There was incredible fiddle playing from Tom Kitching who also doubled up with the mandolin. Edwin Beasant, who on this occasion mostly played accordion, chipped in on squeezebox, harmonica and guitar. The fourth and newest member was Jon Loomes who played the evocative hurdy gurdy but also moved to squeezebox and guitar when required.

Coming from Stockport and taking their name from a Rudyard Kipling poem, in some ways they are like a miniature Bellowhead but with a more traditional sound.

Pilgrims' Way obviously enjoy what they do and their enthusiasm comes through. They are a delightful and immensely talented band.

Frantic farce as classic gets a Brummie twist

Table talk for Sian Brooke and Paul Hunter playing married couple Elmire and Orgon Picture by Ellie Kurttz

Mark Williams is scruffy scoundrel Tartuffe in Rep artistic director Roxanna Silbert and Chris Campbell's version

Tartuffe, The Rep, Birmingham

BRUMMIE actor Mark Williams comes home to star in this rollicking, up-dated version of Moliere's 17th Century comedy.

He actually doesn't appear until half way through the first act but it is to the credit of an excellent ensemble cast that the audience does not get impatient for the Harry Potter and Father Brown actor.

Williams plays the crumpled rogue Tartuffe, who has inveigled his way into a wealthy household by persuading the master of the house Orgon that he is a pious Christian whilst actually lusting after Orgon's wife Elmire, who then devises a plan to expose his hypocrisy.

In the capable hands of director Roxana Silbert, this is turned into a topical fast-paced farce with lots of ribald humour, slapstick violence and local references from Lee Longlands to Wolverhampton.

Panic

On a set best described as 'Solihull baroque', Paul Hunter gives a masterclass in frenetic physical comedy when the blinkered Orgon realises he has been duped – his panic is a sight to behold.

There are also fine performances from Ayesha Antoine, an absolute firecracker as mouthy maid Dorine; Janice Connolly ruling the roost as a barking mad grandmother; and Sian Brooke as the exasperated Elmire.

But the calm centre of all this frantic foolery is Williams, who doesn't waste a single gesture as the cunning fraudster.

His comic performance is spot on and, like his victims, the audience ends up charmed by the scruffy scoundrel.

If you enjoyed One Man Two Guvnors, you will love this.

Tartuffe continues at The Rep until Saturday, November 16.

Answers demanded over new health centre scheme

COUNCILLORS in Burntwood are calling for answers over a proposed new health centre for the town.

They want to make sure the promise of a multi-million primary care complex will be delivered. Proposals have been agreed since 2011.

Work on the complex, at the leisure centre site in High Street, Chasetown, was due to start in the autumn.

Now Chase Terrace councillor Sue Woodward is demanding to get to the bottom of the centre's fate.

by Laura Blyth

Vital

After meeting with senior councillors, health scrutiny officers and a senior NHS manager, Councillor Woodward said there was still uncertainty over the plans.

She said: "Burntwood is in desperate need of this health centre. It is vital we know what is happening.

"Although the scheme had been signed off locally before the cut-off date for NHS reorganisation, March 31 this year, it seems that it was not signed off in time by the board of the county-wide cluster of Staffordshire Primary Care Trusts.

"This means it now has to go back into a long national queue with NHS England to be reassessed yet again. It is one of around 750 schemes nationally, 28 in Staffordshire and Shropshire. We don't yet know what the assessment process will involve or, frankly, what our chances are.

"I hope previous promises made to the local community will be honoured."

The scheme is meant to accommodate five GP practices and community nursing teams, serving up to 22,000 patients.

Summerfield councillor Don Isaacs said: "This is something we have been promised and all the financing and plans have been in place for years. We need some answers."

Sultan Mahmud, director of commissioning for NHS England in Shropshire and Staffordshire, said: "Due to the complexity of the scheme, it had not passed through all of the necessary NHS approval processes by the March 31, 2013.

"We must ensure that the business case, affordability and sustainability of the proposal are robustly demonstrated. We will look to resolve the issue, as soon as possible."

Plea made on wintry weather to residents

A COUNCILLOR has issued a plea to help Burntwood residents cope with the winter weather.

Councillor Sue Woodward wants people to help neighbours, particularly the elderly and vulnerable, when the snow arrives.

Ice Busters – a Staffordshire County Council initiative – will provide them with advice and materials to keep important pedestrian routes ice and snow-free.

"When the snow and ice arrive, as they surely will, many people are left stranded by icy pavements," said Mrs Woodward.

"The highways team cannot get to every road and avenue in the area as their priority is to keep the main roads clear.

"We want community-spirited people to get trained up to help clear footpaths during bad weather, particularly those near older people's housing."

Lions put on festive fair

A CHRISTMAS fair, organised by Burntwood Lions takes place this weekend.

It is being held on Saturday from 10am to 3pm at the Memorial Hall, in Rugeley Road. Entry is £1 for adults and free for children.

Proceeds go towards a Santa Special for disabled children on November 30.

Volunteer planters spring into action

Some of the 25 volunteers who took part in the bulb planting event at Chase Terrace Park

MORE than 25 people lent a hand to plant around 1,500 spring flower bulbs at Chase Terrace Park.

Thanks to a donation of £200 by County Councillor Sue Woodward, through the Staffordshire Local Community Fund, Lichfield District Council's parks team invited local people to help plant the bulbs on Saturday, November 2.

Entrance

People of all ages volunteered on the day, planting bulbs under the trees and around the main entrance of the park.

Next spring, park users can look forward to seeing English bluebells, snowdrops and daffodils when they come into bloom.

First aider rewarded for hours of service

A BURNTWOOD woman who uses her lifesaving skills to help others has been rewarded for completing 500 hours of service as a St John Ambulance volunteer.

Last year, 28-year-old Christina Harris spent an average of nearly 10 hours a week providing First Aid at events such as V festival, the Olympic torch relay, Uttoxeter races and the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock.

An emergency transport attendant and trainer, Christina volunteers with the Cannock unit and joined as a first aider in 2008.

Since her training she has assisted many people, including saving the life of a heart attack victim in Lichfield two years ago.

Christina is now aiming to complete 1,000 hours of volunteer service in 2013.

She received her award during a presentation at The Collegiate Church of St Mary in Stafford.

Pub scheme turned down

PLANS to build 20 homes on the site of a former Burntwood pub have been refused.

The Greyhound in Boney Hay Road was demolished in 2009 and the plans were to build 12 houses and eight apartments on the site.

However Lichfield District Council has thrown out the scheme.

Beginning to feel a lot like Christmas

WITH tickets selling fast and several performances in Birmingham already sold out, Birmingham Royal Ballet's spectacular production of fairytale The Nutcracker – created by the company's Director Laureate Sir Peter Wright – returns to its home at Birmingham Hippodrome this month.

One of the world's most celebrated family Christmas shows will be danced from Friday, November 22, to Thursday, December 12, at the Hurst Street theatre.

Generosity

Sir Peter created the production about Clara's Christmas adventures in 1990 to thank Birmingham for its generosity towards the company following its move from Sadler's Wells, London.

The Nutcracker immediately triumphed, establishing itself as the finest version in the country during the Christmas calendar of entertainment.

ONE of the most exciting new young London bands of the year, Palma Violets, will kick off their UK tour with a gig at Wolverhampton Slade Rooms on Monday.

The Lambeth four-piece, already creating a major buzz stateside, had a breakthrough appearance on Jools Holland's show earlier this year and won many fans with their debut album 180.

Accidents

Other major gigs include a Monday Wolverhampton Civic Hall concert by Beady Eye, fronted by Liam Gallagher from Oasis. The band are back in action after guitarist Gem Archer suffered a fractured skull and broken leg in accidents which caused them to pull out of the V Festival. Synth rock veteran Gary Numan brings his machine music to the Wulfrun Hall on Tuesday.

Editors return home for a gig at the O2 Academy on Saturday. The same venue hosts Scouting For Girls on Tuesday.

Mutya, Keisha and Siobhan of The Sugababes have a gig at Digbeth's The Institute tonight (Thursday) and the same venue hosts Naughty Boy tomorrow and Reef on Saturday.

Former Stone Bill Wyman brings his Rhythm Kings to the Symphony Hall tonight and British R&B greats Jazzie B's Soul II Soul are at Birmingham Town Hall tomorrow. South African jazz legend Hugh Masekela joins pianist Larry Willis at the Town Hall on Saturday.

Sharleen Spiteri's Texas on Monday and Bryan Ferry on Tuesday both have sold out Symphony Hall gigs.

Stourbridge rockers Ned's Atomic Dustbin celebrate their 25th year with a short tour including a gig at Birmingham's O2 Academy on Saturday, November 23.

Monologues get new leading lady

THE Vagina Monologues will be making its return to the West Midlands as part of a nationwide tour.

Eve Ensler's theatrical hit will return to Birmingham's New Alexander Theatre on November 22 with new leading lady Diane Keen, who recently completed a 10-year stint on popular BBC soap Doctors and is making her first return to the stage in more than a decade.

She will be joined by two other soap stars – former Hollyoaks actresses Terri Dwyer and Hollie-Jay Bowes – for the monologues. A proportion of ticket sales from the tour will go towards the international women's charity V-Day, which was established by the show's creator.

Choir and sinfonia cathedral concert

MUSIC lovers can hear Birmingham Royal Ballet's orchestra as part of a special choral event.

The Royal Ballet Sinfonia will be performing at Birmingham's St Philip's Cathedral, under the baton of music director Koen Kessels, at the concert on November 21. They will be joined by the city's Birmingham Cathedral Choir for the concert, starting at 7.30pm.

The orchestra will again collaborate with the choir for Faure's Requiem and Mahler's Symphony Number Four. Tickets are £10, available on 0844 338 0338 or at www.ticketfactory.com

Tess Daly

Strictly Come Dancing BBC1, 6.30pm

For those who reckon it's grim up north, brace yourself for a big surprise. This week's edition comes from the Tower Ballroom in Blackpool, and there's nothing miserable about that world famous place. All the stops will be pulled out to impress at Britain's home of ballroom dancing; you can bet that costume designer Vicky Gill will have been working overtime to prepare the most lavish, sequin-laden frocks viewers can imagine with which the nine remaining celebrities will dazzle the crowd. Denture Clinic

Infectious laugher, happy moments and enjoying 'me' time – meet denture implant couple John and Gillian.

Love is sharing smiles, a second chance of romance and two . . .

Transformations

Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS (Eng) (GDC108353)

LOVE is a second chance of romance, embracing life and sharing smiles – lots of them. For retired couple Gillian and John, sharing time together, enjoying holidays, meals out and trips to the theatre, life has opened an unexpected new chapter of happiness after they both lost their partners.

Their laughter is infectious and their zest for life inspirational. The widow and widower, both young 70-somethings, met at a mutual friend's golden wedding party and the rest, as they say, is history.

But John didn't only discover a new soul mate, he also found a new patient for denturist Steven Burchell DipCDT RCS (Eng).

Principal of the Denture Clinic in North Street, Dudley, Steven says: "They're such refreshing company and I am thrilled they are so happy together.

"But I'm also pleased we were able to resolve a long-standing lower denture problem for Gillian as well as create a lovely warm smile for her that suits her personality."

John recalls he was first to attend the Denture Clinic after spending nearly four years "perusing stories in the papers" about Steven's work.

Like many denture wearers he had encountered stabilisation problems with his lower denture as gums receded with the normal ageing process. "I knew I had to get something done because when I was driving my lower teeth could dance up and down," says John.

Crunchy salads

Steven referred him to dental implantologist Jon Pugh BDS MSc, with whom the denturist has along-standing professional relationship.

"I decided to go for an implant-retained over-denture which clips on to two fixings. I would never let anything stop me from enjoying a meal out before I had the implants, but things are great now. I can have steak, eat crunchy salads and feel free to have anything off the menu," he says.

Gillian had endured a similar stabilisation problem for two years and was persuaded by John to see Steven because her dentures "were always loose."

Again an implant-retained over-denture was prescribed and Mr Pugh also rebuilt Gillian's upper front teeth with crowns. The results are obvious: Natural looking, functional teeth and an engaging smile.

"Previous dental treatment could never resolve my problems. If I ate out I'd have to order soft options , but I put up with it," says Gillian.

"We laugh a lot, smile a lot and enjoy life. This is my 'me' time," she adds.

And what of their experience at the Denture Clinic? "Steven is like family to us," says John.

Steven added: "By using implant retained over-dentures we can guarantee to resolve stability issues. We prescribe and produce our dentures on the premises and it means I can be fastidious about quality."

Options

Traditional

THE Denture Clinic is renowned for its natural look. Denturist Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS (Eng), says: "Quality, traditional dentures can be hugely effective."

Suction

DENTURES which use suction to stay in place are helping to resolve common stability problems. The Ultra Suction teeth are held in place by tiny valve-operated devices fitted into the prosthetic.

Implant retained

DENTURES retained by implants offer a guaranteed solution to stability issues. Implant procedures are available at the Denture Clinic Dudley and Wolverhampton premises through Total Implant Solutions.

Mandy Patinkin

Homeland
Channel 4, 9pm
In case you didn't know it, this is one of the most talked about, acclaimed American series of recent years. However, maintaining the level of brilliance that captivated audiences in the spring of 2012 is far from easy, but at least the presence of Claire Danes (Carrie), Mandy Patinkin (Saul) and F Murray Abraham (Dar Adal) helps sustain the interest in this episode. While Saul's old adversary is in custody, Berenson takes a career gamble. Meanwhile, Carrie and Quinn have a hard time containing a local police investigation.

Pick of the Week

Jungle fever grips the nation for another year

Admittedly there are plenty of celebrities we'd love to throw in the jungle, never to see a trace of again, but we'll happily settle for the next best thing – sending them Down Under into rat-ridden pits and snake-infested swamps and serving them up a three-course meal of the jungle menu's finest delicacies.

Yes, it's that time of year again when a handful of famous folk ditch their make-up, designer clobber and home comforts – and all in a bid to take the crown as king or queen of the jungle, an accolade clinched last year by actress Charlie Brooks.

Back in 2002, the powers-that-be at ITV first discussed the seemingly absurd idea of taking a handful of headline-grabbing celebrities and throwing them in to the middle of a beastie-inhabited Australian jungle.

"It'll never work" cried a groaning public.

But here we are, about to embark on the 13th series of the sadistic reality favourite, which, at a time when reality TV is in overload, I'm a Celebrity Get Me Out of Here! is head and shoulders above its peers.

As usual ITV bosses are playing their cards close to their chests and keeping us guessing as to who will front this year's final line-up of jungle guests, but with names such Rylan Clark, Michael Le Vell and Paul Gascoigne being bandied around, perhaps we ought to brace ourselves for what could be the best series yet.

Like a witchetty grub without a side helping of mayonnaise, it'd be criminal if Ant and Dec weren't at the helm plumbing the depths of depravity, and so of course they'll bringing us more rounds of gossip from the camp.

The duo, who started out on children's drama Byker Grove as PJ and Duncan, have risen through the ranks to become a telly phenomenon, and frankly prime-time ITV wouldn't be the same without them, given that they're at the helm of three of the channels biggest ratings scorers: I'm a Celebrity, Saturday Night Takeaway and of course Britain's Got Talent.

The boys have definitely earned the National Television Award for Best Entertainment Presenters, that they've now won 13 years running. In fact, they should probably start making room on their mantelpiece ahead of the next NTAs in January…

Dec recently reminisced about where it all started, telling Radio Times: "I think Ant and I were ambitious because of where we come from. Both of us are from working-class families on council estates in Newcastle. Growing up in the '80s, there weren't many opportunities. It was tough – how it is today economically and socially is reminiscent of those days. We were so lucky that opportunity came along in the early '90s, and we didn't let it go. That's driven us for the last 20 years."

He adds: "People often ask what the secret of our success is, and I used to put it down to just something that happened, but reflecting on it, I think it's friendship. Ours is a career built on a friendship, not a friendship built on a career."

Ant and Dec present I'm a Celebrity Get Me Out of Here!, Sunday, ITV, 9pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY

Wild Things with Dominic Monaghan

Channel 5, 7pm

We're not sure who first decided to send the Lord of the Rings star off to far-flung corners of the world to encounter weird creatures, but we'd like to shake them by the hand: it's turned out to be an oddly enjoyable experience. Now it's back from a mid-series break, and Dominic is off to Laos in Southeast Asia on a quest to find the giant huntsman spider, which is so rare that only a handful of humans have ever encountered one in the wild. And t hat's probably just as well, as it's also tremendously venomous. Mind you, he should be ok – after all, he faced down an ent in The Two Towers.

Ripper Street

BBC1, 9pm

A few weeks ago, in the final episode of BBC Two's Peaky Blinders, we saw a character being sprung by his mates from a prison van. Clearly such behaviour was common back in the 'olden days,' because a similar event is happening again, this time in Whitechapel. It's Irish dynamite expert Aiden Galvin who makes his escape – and less than a day later, he's up to his old tricks. Galvin sets an explosive device under the bed of MP Cecil Knightly, a very vocal opponent of Home Rule. Initially the police believe the attack to be politically motivated, but Reid sets about delving into Knightly's past, and uncovers evidence that suggests his murder could have been caused by a different issue...

TUESDAY

Last Tango in Halifax

BBC1, 9pm

Sally Wainwright's star-strewn Bafta-winning comedy drama returns for a second series tonight, which sees septuagenarian lovers Alan and Celia, played by Derek Jacobi and Anne Reid, make a welcome return to our screens. The story picks up where the first run left off – with Alan regaining consciousness after his heart scare. Which means not only is the wedding back on, but the pair want to tie the knot as soon as possible. Not everyone's love lives are running smoothly, however, and Caroline returns home to find John in bed with Judith. Strong acting and believable dialogue make the whole thing sparkle.

The Sound of Musicals

Channel 4, 9pm

If anyone knows how to fill a theatre, it's Cameron Mackintosh. He's the legendary producer who gave us Cats, Les Miserables and The Phantom of the Opera. However, as the second episode of this eye-opening documentary series discovers, that doesn't mean that his revival of the circus spectacular Barnum is guaranteed to be a stress-free success. Meanwhile, first-time producer Amy Anzel may not have quite so dazzling a CV, but it looks like she has managed to bag a big-name director for Happy Days: A New Musical in the form of Strictly Come Dancing's Craig Revel Horwood. Surely that should guarantee it's not, as Craig would say, a dis-ah-ster?

WEDNESDAY

Mystery Map

ITV, 8pm

Did ITV miss a trick by not treating us to this new two-part documentary at Halloween? The programme finds Ben Shephard and Julia Bradbury travelling across Britain, investigating mysterious incidents from ghost-sightings to mythical beasts. The first stop on their itinerary of spooky spots is York, where Ben checks into the Guy Fawkes Inn, said to be haunted by the ghost of the gunpowder plotter himself. Provided he makes it through the night, the presenter will then be travelling on to Rendlesham Forest to investigate reports of UFOs. And if you refuse to believe these stories without evidence, Julia will also be visiting Hampton Court, where it's believed a ghost has been caught on camera.

Mystery Map, Wednesday, ITV, 8pm

THURSDAY

An Adventure in Space and Time

BBC2, 9pm

Mark Gatiss is a lucky man. He's a lifelong Doctor Who fan who's written for the series and even played a villain in one episode, but for many years he harboured the desire to pen a drama about the show's origins, one that would take viewers back to the early 1960s when Canadian TV executive Sydney Newman decided that his employers at the BBC really needed a children's series about an old man who could travel the universe in a battered old police box. Proving that dreams really do come true, Gatiss was commissioned to write that very programme – and here's the results.

FRIDAY

Me, You and Doctor Who: A Culture Show Special

BBC2, 9.30pm

Unless you've been travelling the universe, possibly in a blue police box, for the past year, you can't have failed to notice that Doctor Who is celebrating its 50th anniversary on November 23rd. The BBC, which didn't always back the show during its original run, has really pushed the boat out for what is now its flagship drama, treating fans not only to a feature-length adventure on the day of the anniversary itself, but also a variety of documentaries. The latest is this offering presented by lifelong fan Matthew Sweet, who examines the show's appeal while offering insights into how it's influenced musicians, designers and artists. Mark Ravenhill, Caitlin Moran, Kevin Livingstone and various actors who've played the Time Lord offer their opinions too.

Our motorway service stations fail customers

By David Banner

Many motorway services are not open 24-7 and should be

WHEN did you last have a good experience at a motorway service station?

In my case, I'm going to say never.

We're constantly being told by clever people that, with the demise of heavy industry, Britain is now a service economy. I beg to differ, and I'm guessing few of these learned individuals have set foot in your average motorway refuge. If they had, they'd be rewriting their reports faster than it takes to get a decent cup of coffee at said roadside establishment (which means they'd have all the time in the world, thanks to the glacial speed of the customer service).

Everything about modern motorway services stinks: from the random locations – often infrequent, sometimes too close together, to the overpriced food and drink and the surly staff and grubby surroundings.

Certainly, there's little to like save the ability to stop safely and stretch your legs.

Soggy

Much has already been said about these obvious issues, so why has the situation been allowed to continue for so long? If we're so fed up with the soggy sandwiches and gravel masquerading as coffee we should vote with our feet and go elsewhere.

Oh, wait, you can't.

I understand that building such sites is a costly exercise, something often used as justification for the laugh-out-loud food prices. But that still doesn't excuse operators viewing travellers as little more than cash cows. After all, not everyone wants a full-on retail experience at the roadside. What's wrong with a simple, safe parking area, clean public conveniences and somewhere to sit?

The French and Germans have nailed this with their low-key rest areas.

True, the locations often lack visual appeal, but they get the basics right – and, crucially, there's not a retail outlet in sight. Don't worry, though, if you do want currywurst and chips for sensible money, those options do exist and are a darn sight better run than the British equivalent.

And what if you want to eat and it's the middle of the night? Can you find somewhere open? Nope. Is it really too much to ask for a facility to be open 24 hours? Supermarkets manage it, yet an outlet located next to a motorway, open 24-7, cannot. We're not talking stone-cold sandwiches from a vending machine either, but proper food served by a human being. A smile would be a bonus.

Such grievances shouldn't come as a surprise to seasoned motorway user.

But with no obvious competition and the guarantee of a captive audience, there's clearly no need for current operators to up their game. It's also interesting that existing retail behemoths have chosen to stay away. Maybe it's time for a supermarket chain to switch attention from the high street to the highway?

Ensuring motorways are well-maintained and safeguarding driver safety should be a top priority for all parties. Road signs aren't optional, and neither should safe and pleasant places to stop be.

Getting more for less with a Peugeot

By Matt Joy

The nose of the 3008 has been re-designed with a new grille and fog light surrounds

There's a new reversing camera and floating LED lamps with a sharp design

THE Peugeot 3008 has been restyled, with greater levels of equipment as standard. In addition, prices across the range have been lowered, making the popular Peugeot 3008 Crossover even better value for money.

After its world debut at the recent Frankfurt Motor Show, this versatile and desirable family car is now available to order, with first deliveries in January.

Since its launch in 2009, the Peugeot 3008 Crossover has attracted more than 500,000 sales worldwide – exceeding original projections by 50 per cent. More than10 per cent of these, some 56,000, are now on UK roads. It has also won considerable critical acclaim from the motoring press, notably winning the prestigious What Car? 'Car of the Year' in 2010, and many other accolades since.

The 3008 Crossover's unique appeal lies in its considerable practicality and flexibility. Combining the space of an MPV, the practicality and high seating position of an SUV and the convenience and driving dynamics of a hatchback, it ticks all the boxes for the modern family motorist.

The Peugeot 3008 is also a pioneer for more environmentally aware motoring, offering owners the world's first diesel / electric powertrain in a Crossover. This innovative technology – HYbrid4 – has won over many customers, representing 10 per cent of 3008 sales globally.

From January, all versions of 3008 and the accomplished HYbrid4 version will benefit from extensive midlife updates with a re-styled appearance.

The distinctive character of the Crossover's nose has been redesigned with a bold new grille and fog light surrounds, both edged in chrome. The headlights feature a new LED signature and chromed projector components. On higher trim-level models, the 3008 is specified with Xenon headlights with automatic height and directional adjustment.

Emerge

The contemporary feel also extends to the rear of the car. New light clusters feature a dark tint, while the three 'floating claw' LED lamps have a sharp new design and appear to emerge from the lamp with a 3D effect.

The 3008 range is offered in a choice of nine colours. On the 3008 HYbrid4, six colours are available.

Inside, the 'Head-Up' display now features full-colour imagery, with separate shades for different information. A new reversing camera also makes manoeuvres easier by displaying the area immediately behind the vehicle.

Specification on the Peugeot 3008 Crossover has been boosted by features which are now standard on Peugeot's familiar three trim levels – Access, Active and Allure. Bluetooth connectivity for smartphone and music players is included on every 3008, while electric folding door mirrors have been added to Active models. Peugeot Connect Navigation and the new reversing camera are standard on Allure.

The revised Peugeot 3008 Crossover is now even better value for money. On-the-road pricing has been reduced by £650 on Access, £550 on Active and £150 on Allure.

The 3008 remains one of the most practical new cars on sale. The split tailgate creates an easy-load flat boot floor and the lower section can bear a 200kg load when open. The cargo area can fold to suit endless load requirements, with a three-position boot floor and four securing rings for attaching a luggage net.

The Easy Flat rear bench seat can be folded in a single movement using buttons located in the boot or at the top of the seat back. At the front, the passenger seat folds completely flat for transporting even longer loads.

Last-gasp kick goes wide and run ends

Burntwood A XV 12
Walsall 3rds 13

IT was double disappointment for Burntwood when the A XV lost their undefeated Merit Table record on the same day as the 1st XV went down – and both agonisingly by a single point.

A good start by the hosts was rewarded with flying winger Ben Tranter scoring in the corner.

This sparked the visitors into life. Their forwards went on to dominate play up to half time but their only score came from their No.8.

Burntwood regained control after the break but found the Walsall defensive line hard to breach until skipper Dave Ward touched down near the posts. Charlie Liggins converted.

They then converted a penalty to make it 12-8.

With 15 minutes to go Walsall were camped in the home 22 but it took them 10 minutes to score an unconverted try.

Burntwood fought back and with just two minutes left a penalty gave the chance for Liggins to preserve his side's record but his kick went wide.

Two goals down then a fightback

Cannock Ladies 1st 2
Leicester Ladies 2nd 2

CANNOCK went 2-0 down early doors after they got off to a relaxed start.

The girls fought back and had the majority of the pressure over Leicester in the second half.

The hard work paid off and goals from Lucy Spencer and Sarah Martin secured a point. Player of the match went to Ruth Graham.

Cannock Ladies 2nd 2
Towcester Ladies 1st 3

Jude Hitchens put Cannock in front. Towcester stepped it up and in close succession converted two short corners to make it 2-1.

Towcester's third came from a fluke cross. Captain Laura Thomas got Cannock's second.

North Staffs 2nd 1
Cannock Ladies 3rd 2

Goals came from Jill Simpson and Jess Bailey .

Cannock Ladies 4th 2
Erdington 1st 0

After a scrappy start Cannock got both of the cannock goals through Jane Craddock.

Defeat leaves first team struggling

Chris Darnley scores the winner over Beeston

WITH a 4-1 defeat to Surbiton, Cannock's NOW: Pensions Men's Hockey Premier Division team are struggling near the bottom of the table.

Despite beating Surbiton in a cup game two weeks ago they were unable to take any points from this league fixture.

England Under-21 player Nick Bandurak scored Cannock's only goal.

Better results came from Cannock's second team. With Cannock sitting in the top half of the Midlands Premier League they travelled to Birmingham University who were a couple of places above them.

The game was a cagey affair with both sides cancelling each other out. Cannock had the better of the early chances but failed to find the net. Birmingham struck first but Cannock leveled when Aaron Wiles coolly slotted home a penalty stroke. Birmingham had the better of the chances in the second half, but keeper Ollie Balcombe was outstanding throughout the game and was largely responsible for Cannock gaining a point.

Cannock Seconds were in action again the following day with a home Cup fixture against fierce Midlands rivals Beeston.

This was another very tight game but fine work by Will Fleet, Reece Jecketts and Chris Darnley, in midfield, put Beeston under pressure. Midway in the second half Darnley pinched the ball from Beeston and drove to the D from the halfway line.

He slotted the ball to Dan Beck who returned to give him the shot on goal which recorded Cannock's winner.

There were mixed results for the remainder of Cannock's Midlands League sides.

The 3rd XI were 7-1 winners at Edgbaston and the fourth team beat Worcester 5-3. The fifths lost 4-1 at home to Rugby and sixths lost 4-2 away to Leek.

A better result was recorded by the young seventh team who recorded a 4-2 win over Bridgnorth.

The eighths fought out a 0-0 draw at North Staffs.

Confusion reigns and unbeaten record goes

Midlands 3 West North
Market Drayton 26 Burntwood 25

BURNTWOOD'S first loss was also Market Drayton's first win of the league campaign and the outcome was not without some controversy.

With time for one last play, the visitors were awarded a penalty on halfway. Skipper Ian Jones checked the score with the referee and was told that his side was ahead so he asked Will Peach to kick the ball into touch only for the official to recheck the scores and confirm the hosts had in fact won by a point.

It took some heated discussion to ascertain the result after a contest which saw the lead change three times but there was nothing Burntwood could do about the result.

On a lush pitch, conditions were ideal for running rugby and eight tries resulted, four for each side.

Market Drayton started the better of the sides but with 15 minutes gone, a tap-and-go penalty tested the home defence and skipper Jones dummied and darted his way over the line to score. Peach converted.

Just four minutes later Market Drayton were off the mark and the conversion brought the scores level.

The hosts took advantage of a yellow card for hooker Danny Poole with converted by by outside half Luke Rookyard to make it 14-7.

Just as Poole returned, the hosts lost their scrum half to the sin bin and again it proved costly.

Ian Mapp's line out take

was driven on by Poole before Ben Holt received possession. The centre side stepped his way through and out paced the cover for an unconverted try.

Three minutes after the restart Peach scored a penalty to put Burntwood back in the lead following a good run by Brett Taylor.

On 48 minutes the visitors extended their lead. Neal stole possession at a line out to set the backs in motion. Holt fed James Langford, who made good ground down the right wing. He passed inside to Taylor, who dummied the last defender for a try in the corner.

Just past the hour mark, and despite having a second player in the sin bin, Market Drayton regained the lead.

A Burntwood clearance kick was caught and kicked to the far right for the winger to collect and score.

With just two minutes left Market Drayton got their fourth. When the whistle went there was confusion all round until the actual score-line was confirmed.

Burntwood's Matt Sishton gets held up by the Market Drayton defence during the match which ended controversially

Sylvan is back but it's only for exercise

WOLVES head coach Kenny Jackett has ruled out a return for Sylvan Ebanks-Blake after the striker began training again.

The 27-year-old forward has been continuing his rehabilitation at Compton after suffering a broken leg and ankle ligament damage in the 3-2 win at Birmingham on April 1.

Ebanks-Blake is still without a club after his contract at Wolves expired in June. Crystal Palace and Ipswich have been linked with him but until his fitness is proved, the striker cannot resolve his future.

Ebanks-Blake, who scored 64 goals in 193 games for Wolves after arriving for £1.5m in January 2008, will attract interest from the Championship and possibly the lower end of the Premier League when fully fit.

But Jackett has ruled out a Wolves return. "We wouldn't be looking at a deal for Sylvan," he said.

"I just feel I don't particularly want to go back to the former players. It would be nice to bring new, fresh players in.

Jackett wants to continue to promote the club's academy graduates, supplemented by young, hungry players from elsewhere.

Wolves are to do it one more time

Oldham 1 Wolves 1

A SINGLE goal draw in torrential rain at Oldham sounds like an experience to test the loyalty of even the most enthusiastic football supporter.

But at Boundary Park on Saturday, they witnessed an absorbing FA Cup tie.

After weathering Latics' storms at the start of each half – and trailing to Genseric Kusunga's second-minute header – the visitors enjoyed the lion's share of the possession and played some superb passing football at times.

That they must replay was down to some poor finishing which failed to match the enterprising build-up play.

After a mix-up between two Oldham defenders. Wolves' fo the payoff eight minutes before the break.

Former Oldham left-back Golbourne produced a towering header that ripped into the top of the net.

Depleted Aldridge lose out to leaders

Midlands 5 West (North)
Rugeley 27 Aldridge 19

ALDRIDGE, still stricken with an ever-increasing injury list, suffered their first league defeat of the season when they visited leaders Rugeley.

They gave a good account of themselves though with two penalties from full back Alex Yates giving them the early lead which they clung on to until the final minutes of the half.

No.8 Matthew Williscroft crossed twice to put Rugeley in front at the break but a Yates penalty just after the restart reduced the arrears.

The home side continued to raise the pressure and by midway through the half had increased the margin further with tries from No.9 Sam Cotter, converted by winger David Bagnall, and prop Earl Johnson.

Flanker Ben Drinkwater squeezed into the corner for Aldridge and a solo effort by No.8 John Bromwich made a 20 metre blind-side dash for the line to reduced the deficit to three points.

With only five minutes left Rugeley flanker Everall Mitvhell had the final say with a try.

Town set to come back from brink

WHEN they were pulled from the league after almost 140 years in existence, the future looked bleak for Darlaston Town FC.

But now delighted campaigners fighting for the club have revealed it is set to return from the brink and kick off next season following a flood of donations.

The club are believed to be the second oldest non-league team in the country.

It has played at the Waverley Road ground since 1899 and only during the war years has a Darlaston team not been competing in a regional league.

A committee was set up in September to generate £5,000 to cover rent, registration fees and kits in a bid to save the club.

Now organisers said almost £4,000 had been raised – enough, they say, for them to start planning for the club's return.

They are now in talks with Walsall Council about potential locations that could host matches.

Scholars sick as a dog after defeat by the sea

Scarborough Athletic 1 Chasetown 0

IF Chasetown could be criticised for anything at Scarborough it would be their failure to take their chances, which would have seen them winners at Queensgate, Bridlington.

That apart, the Scholars' performance was as good as they had played all season and merited more than going away empty-handed.

After an impeccably observed minute's silence, Chasetown took the game by the throat and knew that to get a result they would have to play well, and they started extremely brightly.

With Joe Halsall ill and Dean Bennett back with Stourbridge, it was up to Danny Bragoli and Grant Beckett to steer the ship from the centre of the park.

Numbers

After just five minutes, Bragoli warmed keeper Jason White's gloves with a decent effort which made the home side realise Chasetown weren't there just to make the numbers up.

On the quarter hour, Chasetown were a glove's thickness away from taking the lead. Paul Sullivan rode a couple of challenges and slipped the ball into Ramone Stephens.

After taking one touch to get it on to his right foot, the second looked like it was bending into the roof of the net until White pulled off a top class save.

Sullivan tested White again before the Seadogs took the lead completely against the run of play.

Four minutes before the break, former Birmingham City midfielder Bryan Hughes played a great through-ball over the top of Tesfa Robinson and Lewis Clarkson took the ball in his stride and drove over Ryan Price as the Chasetown custodian dashed out.

Football

Midway through the second half, Chasetown had a golden opportunity to level as Stephens burst into the penalty area and whether he shot or tried to pick out Sullivan, neither quite came off and the ball ricocheted off Sullivan's shins from close in.

Scarborough fans among the large 459 crowd were describing Chasetown as 'the best they had seen at Queensgate this season' and the home side had more pressure to deal with as a Beckett cross reached Stephens who headed goalwards but straight at White.

Late on, White denied Nick Wellecomme with two chances as Chasetown continued to knock the door but not quite find the breakthrough.

Bradley is youngest in the ring for Wyrley

MORE than 300 spectators saw Great Wyrley ABC stage its first competitive show in more than six years.

Of the 12 bouts at Great Wyrley Sports & Social club, nine featured home boxers.

England's Daniel Breeze (Walsall Wood ABC) lost out to fellow international Ryan Mulcahy from the Knowsley Vale club in Liverpool.

Bradley Jukes, aged 10, became Wyrley's youngest ever representative. He and Luke Palmer boxed in skills fights against Dean McBrias (Knowsley Vale) and Nathan Muldowney (Birmingham Irish) respectively.

Daniel Hodson dropped a majority decision to Ryan Badial (Wolverhampton) and battling Oliver Cooper dropped a majority decision to another Wolverhampton fighter Reece Salvo.

Jamie Mansell was GWABC's first winner, a majority verdict over Ryan Whelan (Neachells Green). Reece Roberts beat Neachells Chris McLoughlin.

Glorious Saddlers sweep on

Walsall 3 Shrewsbury 0

WALSALL were an absolute joy to watch and, for once, able to deliver with clinical efficiency the result their football deserved.

The Saddlers thrived because they constantly exerted more pressure on Shrewsbury, the hard yards of running eventually paving the way to some truly glorious football.

Key figures were all over Smith's team but the two goals and link play of Craig Westcarr continue his transformation.

Romaine Sawyers and Westcarr, who combined instinctively for the former Albion man's spectacular third goal, appear to be tuning into each other.

Town defender David Winfield's miscued clearance teed up Westcarr for the opener and nothing summed up Walsall's ingenuity more than Sawyers' 25-yard belter.

Big run relay joy brings in cash

CANNOCK & Stafford AC became world record holders after taking part in the World Marathon Challenge.

More than 600 teams from over 60 countries took part in this year's event to raise money for Save the Children.

Having originally started off as an event that focused on young school runners, an increasing number of open age teams now take part.

The teams of between 26 and 36 athletes ran a continuous 200m relay to try to complete a marathon distance as fast as possible.

Cannock & Stafford's team consisted athletes ranging from 12-year-olds Iris Davies, Sarah Preston and Amy Pye to 50-year-old veteran hurdler Gary Myles.

They completed the 105.5 laps, at Rowley Park, Stafford, in 1.42.22, beating Tartu Kalev, from Estonia, by just three seconds.

The 34 Cannock & Stafford athletes came mainly from sprint groups coached by Shaun Ainge, Gary Myles and Jamie Mills and middle distance athletes coached by Bob Hughes.

Squad organiser Sandi Thompson said "We are all very proud of the team both for their effort on the track and for raising over £1,200 for Save the Children."

Chairman, Simon Evans, added "It was a brilliant event and we are all so proud of everyone at the club."

Craig hits it off with Rom

TOP scorer Craig Westcarr believes his partnership with Romaine Sawyers can help silence claims that Walsall are a striker short of a promotion challenge.

Nine-goal Westcarr is on course to beat his previous best tally in a season – 13 with Notts County – having emerged as the leader of an attack which has managed 17 goals from its 15 League One games.

Manager Dean Smith, who lost his three leading scorers of last season during the summer, has repeatedly rebuffed claims his Saddlers squad needs more firepower.

"It's going well with 'Rom.' He's a top quality player as we are seeing now and one you can really enjoy playing with," said Westcarr.

"We seem to have developed a good understanding and know what each other is going to do and where we are going to be.

"It's going well."

Hayes in dogfight after another home defeat

Heath Hayes 1 Shepshed Dynamo 4

Football

HAYES fell to another heavy home Midland Alliance defeat and were once more the architects of their own downfall, being punished heavily for basic errors.

As early as the eighth minute keeper Adam Jenkins, so often the saviour, rashly raced out of goal to effect a clearance but made a right hash of it and Jonathan Jones lobbed home from 30 yards despite valiant efforts to clear.

Despite the early setback Hayes were playing some neat football but nothing was dropping for them in front of goal. Dave Waple had a good effort well saved by Dynamo keeper Ryan Thacker and a good shot from Chris Geldart struck the post before the ball was scrambled clear.

Mitch Teece should have done better with a good chance early in the second half as the home side went all out for the equaliser.

Dynamo increased their lead on 62 minutes when Rob Mulonga evaded three challenges before tumbling to the ground and with the home defence waiting for a whistle that never came skipper Craig Attwood fired home.

Sacrificed

This seemed to wake up Hayes and Chris Geldart pulled a goal back after combining well with Waple.

Sensing that there was something to be had from the game manager Steve Taylor sacrificed defender Harry Philips and Dennis Picket, introducing Tom Green and Adam Langley. It looked to be working as Hayes piled on the pressure but once more Mulonga was allowed to run through the home defence to set up substitute Liam Tuck for a tap in.

With eight minutes remaining Hayes were handed a lifeline when the visitors had Attwood sent off but they failed to capitalise and their misery was complete when Sean Byrne scored in injury time.

The Hayes management team need to make some tough decisions as they attempt to come up with a winning formula as they now have a relegation struggle on their hands.

LATE HEADER ENDS PITMEN'S DREAMS

FA Cup First Round
Hednesford Town 1 Crawley Town 2

HEDNESFORD Town's FA Cup dreams were shattered by a Crawley Town winner with nine minutes remaining.

Football

However, The Pitmen's vociferous support which packed out three sides of Keys Park can be proud of their team who more than held their own against a side three leagues above them.

A crowd of well over 2,000 crammed into the ground and created a fevered cup atmosphere as the build up which encompassed extensive televison, newspaper and radio coverage set up an engrossing First Round tie.

After a minute's silence for Remembrance Day, The Pitmen were fastest out of the blocks.

Corners

They were roared on by their fans in the Heath Hayes End, and a succession of corners almost forced a Crawley defender to slice over his own bar, under pressure from Francino Francis.

Midfielder Jamey Osborne made his first contribution on 16 minutes when he jinked past two challenges but shot wide.

Crawley repelled the home side's initial wave of attacks and could have taken the lead on 18 minutes when a cross from the left was turned on to the post by Josh Simpson and the Sky Bet League One outfit began to stamp their authority on the half thereafter.

The second half started with Hednesford straining every sinew to compete with their professional visitors, and just before the hour mark The Pitmen had their best spell of the game.

The home side created the game's best chance when Neil Harvey found himself in acres of space from a Durrell free kick but headed the ball straight at Paul Jones.

Osborne then cut in cleverly from the left wing and curled a shot which looked destined to find the far corner only for Jones to save brilliantly at full stretch.

A boisterous atmosphere was silenced when on 59 minutes Darren Campion diverted a goal-bound Nick Adams cross into his own net to give Crawley a fortuitous lead.

The Skrill North leaders raised their game and Osborne was the hero, as he skinned former Birmingham City full back Mat Sadler and was bundled over in the penalty area.

The ever-reliable Durrell scored the most pressurised penalty he has ever taken to send Keys Park wild on 75 minutes. Unfortunately, Crawley grabbed the winner as a corner evaded everyone except Emile Sinclair who nodded past Dan Crane.

Elliott Durrell celebrates another spot kick success but it wasn't enough to stop The Pitmen going out of the cup

Cup trip to Orient reward

WALSALL are planning a repeat play of Saturday's FA Cup magic to clinch a third round spot for the first time in five years.

The Saddlers' reward for a spanking 3-0 first round victory over League One neighbours Shrewsbury Town was a tough clash with familiar opposition – league leaders Leyton Orient.

Dean Smith's men will return to Brisbane Road next month to face opponents who have taken League One by storm and swept past Conference outfit Southport 5-2 in their first round clash.

Walsall, however, were the first team to take points off Orient at their own ground this season and did so with a 1-1 draw after having skipper Andy Butler sent off in the first half.

Saturday's slick display against the Shrews saw Smith's team produce some of their most thrilling football of the season and they will not lack for confidence in their return to Orient.

"That was a very good performance and at times I thought we were very difficult to handle," said Smith.

"It would have been nice to have a home tie for the second round."

Smith's squad at the gateway

MANAGER Dean Smith believes his Walsall team stand at the gateway to a season of "massive potential."

A challenging FA Cup second round draw at League One leaders Leyton Orient has failed to dampen the optimism in the Saddlers camp. On the draw, Smith said: "It's tough tie, of course it is. ...it does not frighten us."
